HUGGING AS A FINE ART.

A Chicago Parent's Sensible Advice to a Bashful Lover.

A queer case has just come to light in Chicago. A young man spent an evening with his girl, and during the evening, while the family was present in the parlor he was as demure, bland and child-like as could be wished. The mother came into the room after the family had got a retired fan she had left, and the young man was seated in a chair in the middle of the room, while the girl was seated on a sofa, nothing that the mother could see in the actions of either led her to think they were more than passing acquaintances. It seemed to her as though the young people had met before, but there was no evidence that they were very well acquainted. All night, after he had gone, the girl complained of a pain in her side, and in the morning a doctor was called, and found that two of the girl's ribs were broken. How it was done nobody knew. The girl could not tell for the life of her; though she blushed when asked about it, and the mother looked very wise as she looked at the doctor. The doctor made some inquiries, set the ribs and went away, and the girl proceeded to recover.

That evening the young man called and was astonished when informed of the extent of the girl's injuries, and wondered how it could have happened, though the mother watched his face closely as he spoke and detected not only a blush but a profuse perspiration on his face. She had been a girl once herself, and though she had never had any of her bones broken she had been hugged some. It was a trying position for all of them. The father was away on a trip to Wisconsin, and when he came home the master was explained to him. He was told that the ribs just simply broke themselves, and that neither the mother nor the girl nor the young man account for it, and yet all three of them blushed terribly. The father patted his girl on the head, told her she would be better when she got over it, and then called the young man into the library. The young man was so weak he could hardly walk, and when he sat down he took out a handkerchief and mopped his brow and wished he was dead. The father looked the young man over and was sorry. He finally said:

"Young man, I guess you can give you some points on hugging. You must first learn that a girl is not constructed on the same principle of an iron fence or a trust bridge. A girl is a delicate piece of machinery, like a fine watch, full of little springs, wheels, jewels, etc. The breaking of any one of these would cause her to cease keeping time and necessitate her being taken to a jeweler for repairs."

In hugging a girl you don't want to go at it as if you were raking and binding. I know that where the family sits up late with a young couple and spoils several precious hours of hugging, that unless the young man has a good head left alone with the object of his affection, that he is liable to make up for lost time. He seems to want to hug up a lot ahead, and grabs the girl as though he wanted to break her in two. This is wrong. You should go at it calmly and deliberately, even playfully, and be as gentle as though she was an ivory fan. The gentle pressure of the hand that a girl loves, even the touch, is as dear to her as though you run her through a stone-crusher. You should not grab her as you would a bag of cats, and leave marks on her that will last a lifetime. A loving woman should not be made to feel that her life is in danger unless she wears a corset made of boiler-iron. I hope this will be a lesson to you, and hereafter, if you cannot control your feelings I will provide a wooden Indian for you to practice on at first, until you have developed your muscle and got tired, and then we can turn our daughter loose in the room with you and not feel that it is necessary to keep a surgeon handy. In allowing you to keep company with my daughter, I do not agree to provide you with a human gymnasium, dressed in a Mother Hubbard wrapper and wearing bangs. You can readily see that a girl would not last a season if she had to have ribs set once a week. Please think this over, and if the girl is well enough now Sunday you can drop in and try some more ribs. Now, you go home and hug a hat-rack for an hour or two, and have it mended in the morning."

The young man went out into the night air, took his hat off, to cool his head and hired a man to kick him—Chicago Cracker.

What Makes Our Soldiers Insane.

"You would be surprised to know the principal cause of insanity among the troops in the Philippines," says an Army surgeon who has just returned from Manila. "It can be attributed largely to homesickness and too much quinine. When a soldier becomes tired and worn out from hard campaigning he begins to think of home and mother and the idea grows on him so he soon has a bad case of nostalgia and is melancholy as Hamlet. If we can build up his physical condition he soon gets over it, but often we have to send the men back to the states to recuperate."

"At first we had a good deal of trouble with quinine. A soldier would get malaria, and the first thing we knew he was taking eighty or ninety grains of quinine a day, as he had free access to the drug, where it was kept in a keg in the mess tent. To persons who have never lived in tropical countries it seems incredible a man could take so much quinine and live. It had the effect of making those who committed the excesses insane, but after we found out to what extent the practice had grown, we stopped the free use of it, and the trouble has decreased."—New York Press.

That Puzzling Latin.

When Tom Hopkinson was taken suddenly ill a day or two back the doctor looked grave for a moment and promised to send some stuff along, says Answers.

The bottle duly arrived, and was labeled, "For external use only."

Next day doctor called again, only to find the man, if anything, worse than ever.

"Did you use my preparation?" he inquired.

"Ay," said the patient, rather dolefully. "Me an' th' wife read what it said on the bottle; but not understanding Latin, an' not knowing whether it meant big or little doses, I swallowed it all at once, but I don't feel any benefit at all."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 2, 1903.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., Post Office as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

A man may die in Richmond on account of striking a match on his pants after sitting on a gasoline can.

Orville H. Hall of Atlanta, formerly of Dahlonega, has received his commission to be a captain in the Fifth infantry of Georgia.

The officers of the Georgia State troops will be allowed to wear their old uniforms until April 1, 1904. Then they will have to don brand new costly ones.

The deadly cigarette will go out of Wisconsin July 1st. After that cigarettes or cigarette paper will not be allowed to be sold or manufactured in the state.

When President Roosevelt complains that the South does not look at him in the right light, he most evidently think we are looking on his side, remarks the Macon Telegraph.

No negroes attended the recent session of the National Council of Women held at New Orleans, although it was reported that some would be there, causing many white ladies to stay away.

Atlanta beats any city in the world for thieves. A negro the other morning stole a merchant's money drawer, and fought the proprietor and a policeman awhile before he would give it up.

The Alabama Legislature passed a law providing uniform text books for the public schools of the state. And the summer session of the Georgia Legislature should hasten to do the same. Such a law would save thousands of dollars every year to the parents of the school children of the state.—Cartersville Standard.

The Union printers of Atlanta seem to be on a general strike. The strike first started Foot & Davies job office. Since that time strikes have occurred at the following offices: C. P. Byrd, Latshaw Printing Co., Tompkins & McGowen, Bennett Printing House, Mutual Printing Co., Atlanta Lithographing Co., and Franklin Printing Co.

It seems that there is a shortage of about $9,000 in the appropriation made for the payment of pensions to indigent widows, while in the case of the indigent soldiers, the disabled soldiers and widows of the first class, all pensions of these three classes were paid before the upset figure named in appropriation was reached. The general opinion prevails that nothing can be done to relieve the situation until the legislature meets in June.

A test of the machine firing guns, the invention of Dr. S. N. McClellan, of Cleveland, O., was made in the presence of Gen. Nelson, A. Miles and Gen. Joe Wheeler in that city last week. Gen. Miles was present as the president of the board of fortifications. The McClellan gun shoots 25 times with one pull of the trigger. A circular plate fitted to the side of the weapon feeds the cartridges. Gas generated by the first explosion sets the plate automatically in motion. Gen. Wheeler thinks well of the new fire-arm.

Girls in Norway must know how to sew, knit and bake before their guardians will permit them to have beau. Some of them are so eager to acquire these useful household accomplishments that they are learned before they can read and write. In this country, in some families, household duties are shunned by girls; they are taught to pound the piano and to do fancy work. In many instances they marry fellows too poor to even hire a piano, too ignorant to speak good English, truthfully remarks the Quittman Advertiser.

Mining Notes.

Crown Mountain mill keeps steadily running day and night on ore taken from the three cuts, prospects splendid and managers pleased.

Mr. Ricketts informs us that he will have the new dredge boat, he is building for Messrs. Ingessoll & Crisson, ready for the water about the 15th inst., and expects to have it ready for the operation by the first of June.

After cutting the vein at the Beuning the Consolidated closed down until some method is adopted by which the values of the ore can be saved. A thorough test has been made and perfect satisfaction is given.

Now that Mr. Jaquish has returned from the north, it is expected that he will begin work at his mine near Auraria on a big scale, as sufficient prospecting has been done to satisfy him that it will be proper and profitable.

Up at Cawdner Creek good time has been made on the canal and all other work during the several days of excellent weather. Everything is being run in a business like manner, which, if continued, they will be sure to make money when they get to mining.

Work suspended at the Pyrites mine yesterday until the Southern Railroad gets through surveying and locating a line from its road to the mine, which was to have commenced last Monday, so it is reported. The mine is opened, all right and now they want a railroad.

A very rich gold discovery was made a few days ago down on the Ralston property—lot No. 718, by Mr. J. F. Bruce, belonging to the Consolidated Co. We were shown some of the ore yesterday by Capt. Ingessoll and the rocks were held together by gold, the finest we have seen in a long time. The rent was paid in nuggets as large and larger than coffee grains. Four pounds of this ore produced 66 pennyweight of gold, worth about $15 a pound. It is the same vein of the Whim Hill, which produced such a large amount of gold on another lot.

Work on the Briar Patch canal is moving along splendid. Not being able to make satisfactory arrangements with Mr. Packard, whose property it runs through, it was yesterday condemned and the damages placed at $50. The arbitrators being Mr. W. J. Hightower, Mr. W. B. Fry and Capt. W. J. Worley. Mr. Packard is displeased with the decision and may carry it to the Superior court. However, this will not stop the progress of the work. A re-survey will be made this week and the work will go right ahead, so we are informed, and the canal finished as soon as possible.

Dr. Purdy of Dayton, O., has entirely a new dredge boat which he wishes to introduce in this county. He has been here for several days examining and testing the Yahoola and Chestatee streams, but finds the Yahoola too small a creek for his boat to operate in. The Chestatee is all right and no doubt he will build one for it provided he can secure leases enough from those owning the property to justify him in its construction. The present boats in the Chestatee use shovels to scoop up the gravel and can only successfully work where the bed is smooth and clear of rocks. This one of the Doctors works entirely different. It sinks into the material and can work as well, if not better, where it is hard, than where it is soft. So between the two kinds of boats it looks like this rich stream will have to give up all its yellow metal.

J. T. Kilpatrick of Gainesville, has commenced suit against the Southern Railroad for the loss of an eye while working on the road recently.

John Perry, who was to have been hanged in Dalton tomorrow for killing a showman, has been resited.

A negro has been lynched in Illinois, for assaulting a 13-year-old white girl. It occurred at Alt Pass.

The Grand and Petit Jury.

We give below the list of both juries drawn for the coming term of Lumpkin Superior court as follows:

C. H. Jones, F. J. Williams, John Wacaster, Noah White, G. D. Bruce, W. E. Wells, H. Chambers, J. F. Castleberry, G. B. White, F. M. Williams, Joseph Jarrard, G. W. Cochran, J. H. Jenkins, W. D. Abercrombie, H. W. S. Stringer, J. L. Healan, A. Jackson, J. H. Summerour, J. B. Waters, J. B. Ricketts, Rev. S. M. Grizzel, M. C. Chester, R. M. Magness, Joseph Rider, W. J. Crane, G. C. Wallace, J. N. Davis, B. P. Gaillard.

Atlanta is determined to have the Presbyterian University.

It is reported that more rain fell last month than during any March in 12 years.

The thieves and pickpockets are still doing a profitable business in Atlanta.

The closing of the seven mills of nearly one million spindles at Lowell, Mass., has thrown seventeen thousand operators out of employment.

Cato Wiggins, a negro preacher of Atlanta, has been arrested for beating his wife. Pretty bad example for a preacher, or that is one who calls himself a preacher.

Mr. Joseph Laurens, residing near Dublin, Ga., is the father of 20 children. He has been married twice. By the first wife he had 11 children, and his present wife has born him 9 children.

Robert J. Tatum, who was bitten by a mad dog some time ago in Dawson county, commenced having fits Saturday night and was having a fit every six hours Sunday. It is thought it is the effect of the bite.

A negro who confessed to setting fire to a store at Bradley, Ark., was soon afterwards lynched. Now, this will enable those headed fellows always howling about lynchings in the south to direct their attention in another direction.

The plantations in many sections along the Mississippi resemble lakes and the situation looks serious. All along the river men have worked day and night trying to prevent levees from breaking until many of them are exhausted and sick.

E. E. CRISSON.

Mr. J. F. Castleberry returned from a trip to Clarkesville last week. Mr. Castleberry will not run a summer hotel there this season.

The college time has been moved up, causing the students to have to leave their roost these spring mornings half an hour sooner than usual.

Dahlonega now has three hotels and a number of boarding houses, and parties wishing to spend the summer here will find ample room and good accommodation.

Mr. P. L. Lee, who went from this county some years ago to Kentucky, has moved back and settled down for the rest of his life near where he was born and raised.

The case of Arvey Sullins, charged in the U. S. Court of conspiracy, set for trial on the 25th ult., was continued on account of one of the defendant's witnesses being absent, as well as his attorney.

A lot of garden stuff was planted last week during the pretty weather. Some gardens are not yet planted on account of the owners being unable to get any work. Idle men are scarce in Dahlonega now.

The rain of Sunday night here was accompanied by a very heavy, steady wind for hours, causing small houses to rock to such an extent that some of the inmates rose from their beds and sat up until it ceased blowing.

Dick McDonald was brought out of jail and carried before Com. Barker last Monday so his testimony could be taken down in the case of the United States vs. John Chatton, charged with breaking into Wier post office in this county some time ago.

Mr. James Dunlap of Gainesville, after canvassing Dahlonega a day or two in the interest of the insurance company he represents, returned home Friday. Mr. Dunlap attended school here years ago but hasn't been back in so long that he was almost a stranger.

The finance committee of Lumpkin county, consisting of Messrs. J. E. McGee, John Stringer and John Hutcheson, meets on Monday the 13th inst., so as to examine the records and post the grand jury on county affairs, which assembles the Monday following.

Dr. H. Palmer of Dawson county, requests us to state that he will be in Dahlonega April the 6th, next Monday, and will remain two weeks to do dental work of all kinds. The citizens here all know Dr. Palmer to be a first-class dentist, whose work never fails to please.

Little Billie Signal Apple Jack went down to Atlanta a few days ago to accept a job in Foote & Davies office and break the printers strike, but after arriving there he was persuaded to join the Union. So after being initiated and getting a piece of chewing gum he returned home.

Mr. Geo. Moore, the new mail contractor from this place to Gainesville, will move to that city today so as to be able to look that end of the line, while his brother and partner will give this end his attention. When Mr. Moore leaves it will cause a vacancy in the board of aldermen in the 2nd ward, which will be filled by some one in that ward selected by the rest of the body.

Prof. Steed and wife visited Macon last Saturday.

If you need any coin envelopes, we have them at the NUGGET office.

The ducks have commenced furnishing eggs, already colored, for Easter.

Dr. J. D. Burton, of Dayton, O., was registered at Hall's Villa last week.

Mrs. J. W. Boyd left for Atlanta last week where she will spend a few days.

Miss Earl McCoy of Jackson county, sister to Mrs. Hutchins of this place, is here on a visit.

Last week's pretty weather caused the farmers to come to town after plows, hoes, potatoes, etc.

Those wishing the services of the county surveyor, Mr. V. R. Hix, can address him at New Bridge, Ga.

Last Sunday was wet and rainy to the delight of the college boys, most of whom dislike to have to be marched to church.

Spring opened up on the 21st ult., and the week was strictly observed by the Signal man. No paper being issued from that office.

Men, you make your money here. Now spend it with your home merchants and help to build up your own town and county.

At J. F. Moore & Co., you will find nice college letter heads of the best quality of paper, both type writer and ruled, containing all the teachers' names and the chairs they occupy.

Especial attention is directed to the advertisement in this issue of M. G. Head, who proposes to sell goods for the next 60 days at a profit of only 10 per cent for cash. There is no excuse for going off to Gainesville for your goods now. Call and see him.

Don't be guilty of sending your job work off to other towns and cities when it can be done just as well here, and then when you want something published in the paper free of charge ask us to do it, or when you want a little money for some special purpose, call on the home editor.

Two hundred dollars worth of broken number of hats, shoes and remnants of dry goods at M. G. Heads, which will be sold for the cash at cost and carriage. Good green coffee at 8 cents per pound, Blue Ridge roasted coffee 10 cents. Good grade of rice at 6 cents and kerosene oil at 22 cents per gallon.

Mr. Wash Jenkins, who has the contract of keeping up four of the leading roads within the corporate limits, is getting them in good shape. For this work he receives $120 for the year instead of $100 as stated in a previous issue of the NUGGET, and our opinion is the council will find it cheaper than the old method.

A start is being made to have the partitions removed from the boys dormitory of the college so the students can be drilled there during inclement weather.

A subscription list has also been carried around soliciting money to put up a gymnasium outfit so the male students can exercise and develop their muscles. Of course those who take the plow and hoe and do active work in the agricultural department can have their muscles developed well enough without this and at the same time be of much more benefit to them—not only now but hereafter.

Last week City Marshal Harbin received from Mr. Wright, the deputy sheriff of Fulton county, who visited Dahlonega recently in search of stolen goods that were shipped here by negroes of Atlanta and sold by Henry Underwood, the over cost purchased by Land Strickland from Henry. Also the suit of clothes Mr. Boyd Gayley had bought during the time. Mr. Wright carried away a number of other things he found in the hands of innocent purchasers here, but all had been identified by the merchants of Atlanta except this coat and suit.

Both sweet and Irish potato seed at John H. Moores.

Mr. Watson has opened out a barber shop in the room next to J. H. Moore's grocery store and market.

The new daily mail from Dahlonega to Gainesville commenced yesterday. It leaves here at 12:30, and in a half an hour the other arrives from Gainesville, giving us a daily mail. On the other route we get no mail on Sunday from Gainesville.

A couple of parties quit work and went down to Gainesville five days ago to lay in a supply of groceries. They purchased 500 pounds for two dollars less than they could be had in Dahlonega freight not counted. The freight was $1.50, besides the loss of two days work each and their board. With this added they could have done better at home.

Nearly everybody loses their religion when they go to take down and clean out a stove pipe, at least we do. We have just come across the following notice which we trust will prevent all this trouble hereafter, and publish it with pleasure: "To clean out a stove pipe, take a piece of zinc, put it on the live coals in the stove will clear out the pipe."

Governor Terrell has appointed local committees of ladies in 100 Georgia towns and cities to co-operate with the Georgia executive committee in preparing for the national Conference of Charities and Correction, which meets in Atlanta May 6 to 12, 1908. The committee of Dahlonega is composed of Mrs. R. H. Baker, Mrs. S. Stewart and Mrs. W. A. Charters.

It was reported the other day that a moonshiner would come down the Mainew road in the afternoon with a load of blockade liquor. Long before dark men and women, both black and white, could be seen all along the roadside, looking as if they were expecting the appearance of a street parade belonging to some show. But he failed to come and they all returned to town with lips like looking very sad over the disappointment.

The report going the rounds of the press that Miss Maud Burt, daughter of Rev. D. J. Burt of Dawsonville, had cut the throat of her sweetheart, Mr. Gurney Taylor, seriously, is all bosh. In the first place the trouble didn't occur in Dawson county. It took place in this county at Bartsboro. Mr. Taylor was standing at the fence so we are reliably informed, talking to a young lady, and Miss Burt being displeased with her lover conversing with other girls made the fact known by stepping up, drawing her knife across his throat and bringing a little blood likely, merely enough to stop the chat. That's all.

The big negro trial that was expected to take place before Mayor Baker last Monday was all a flash. The defendants and prosecutor were all on hand but he didn't even have enough evidence to open the case. The facts as we gather them are these: Some weeks ago Winnie Jefferson moved out to the Pyrite mine to cook for the hands, leaving Eb Simms here in charge of her house and contents. Everything moved along all right until Eb got lonesome and took in a partner who was a boomer. Two or three other admirers of the boomer brigaide got wind of it and one night went down, broke into the house and raised a disturbance by ousting Eb's new companion. So when Winnie heard of it she got wrothy at the intruders and came in and reported the matter to the mayor on Monday, but Eb was on too dangerous ground himself to be much of a witness against the others, and the mayor found it was useless to go into the investigation. Lula Carroll, one of the accused, has left for other parts. Savannah Hamilton, the other party, is bidding out, and Mand Langston, Eb's partner, is by this time with Lula Carroll in South Carolina. A state warrant has been issued for Eb's arrest.

Gentleman, if you wish a country paper that comes out every week and gives all the news, subscribe for the NUGGET, a paper that is not crippled in any manner whatever.

We have a scholarship in The Lanier Southern Business College at Macon, Ga., and anyone wishing to enter this institution will find it to their interest to first see the editor of the NUGGET.

There is not such a demand for cabbage here now since several of our citizens have found little success in them, said to be very poor, which will no doubt cause much smaller crop planted in this section than heretofore.

It was so rainy, muddy and disagreeable last Sunday here that the congregations at the churches reminded us of the attendance at Sunday school the following Sabbath after a Christmas tree is had for the benefit of the scholars—small.

Tuesday night Mr. Ike Woody was wedded to Miss Hale Satterfield, which makes his fourth wife. And recently Mrs. Sallie Chatton was married to Mr. John Chatton. At Mr. Woody's wedding a good deal of powder was burned by the boys discharging shot guns, causing a lively time.

On Thursday of last week a country lady after coming to town learned that one of her sons was sick at Knoxville, Tenn., and needed money to come home on. She liked $1.65 having enough, and after several efforts to borrow this amount until the next day failed. No one seemed to have it spare, although $75 were raised the Sunday previous to send off to the healthans who will kill and snatch you bald headed had they the opportunity. Whether these parties asked for the favor had given all the money they had to the healthans, or had more sympathy for them than a poor sick boy of Lumpkin county in a strange place we cannot tell.

Last Friday night Messrs. Lovingsood and Findley, sheriff and deputy sheriff of Fannin county, arrived in Dahlonega and registered at Hall's Villa. These two big, stout men came over after the charred body of Harris Postell, who was wanted in their county on an old warrant. He had been arrested and lodged in jail here on the Friday previous by Marshal Harbin. A good bond was offered the sheriff but he refused taking it until he returned with the prisoner to his county, for the reason that if he carried back a bond, instead of the prisoner they would get nothing out of Fannin county's treasury for the trip. Attorney W. S. Huff was employed, and while he was preparing the papers to take him out on a writ of habeas corpus, the sheriff got wind of it. He went to the jail, handcuffed the prisoner and carried him around the back way and up the Mainew road where he was soon overtaken by the deputy with the turnout and they hastened on their way homeward and were too far gone to be overtaken when the papers were finished. As stated last week, Harris is the boy who was so near burned to death in a straw stack some months ago from the effects of which he is still suffering. This is the second time the defendant has been carried across the Blue Ridge on this same warrant by these officers. It is pleasant and profitable to the officers but hell on the defendant. Harris is penniless and helpless. Like most other poor people, receive but little sympathy from any one outside of relatives. Not even a minister called on him. And for a moneyless person to get any sympathy in the religious department at all it looks like they will have to go to China or Japan where the cash and prayers will both come down on them in big showers like spring rains.

Another Counterfeiter Arrest ed.

On last Friday Jephtha Cochran, Jr., of this county, charged with making and circulating counterfeit money, was captured at his father's house near Randa, by U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzel, and brought to town and placed in jail here until a preliminary hearing was given him before Commissioner Baker. Jephtha is a brother of James Cochran who was arrested by the officers a few days ago in Fannin county, charged with the same offense, in whose store was found a set of moulds, some counterfeit money and a lot of material from which it was made. The circulation of this money has been going on in this section for quite a while and as soon as the officers were made known of the fact they were not long in tracing the matter up. Jephtha has been hiding out ever since his brother was arrested, and on last Friday when it was doubtless believed by him that Marshal Grizzel was away attending U. S. court in Atlanta, he decided to enter his father's house and take a shave. This he was doing when the officer surprised him by his sudden appearance at the door. Whether he completed the job or not we did not learn. If so we don't suppose the beard was cut very short and even. The way of disposing of this spurious coin was conducted in the same manner as all other counterfeits do—go to a place, buy a nickel's worth of something and receive the change in good money. He did a little boy this way at Mr. Bill Rucker's store in Dawson county, not long ago. After asking for and receiving a nickel's worth of tobacco he threw out a new dollar in silver, got the change and stepped off. The little boy not liking the looks of the money, hunted up his father and showed it to him. Mr. Rucker at once saw that it was counterfeit money, and went to where Cochran was getting on his mule ready to leave, handed him back the dollar, telling him it was counterfeit, Cochran said he hadn't noticed it, that he got it from a fellow that day while making some change. He paid the gentleman in good money for his tobacco and went off. The defendant was bound over and will not likely have any more such money in a long time. Cochran was carried back to jail in default of a $1,000 bond, and is now in Atlanta.

Two of a Kind.

A young lawyer, starting in his profession, hung out his sign in a Connecticut town where there was only one other lawyer, an aged judge, says the Punxsutawney News.

A close-fisted old fellow, thinking to get legal advice for nothing called upon the young man, told him he was very glad he had come into the town, as the old judge was getting superannuated, and then contrived in a sort of neighborly talk to get some legal questions answered. Then thanking the young man, he put on his hat and was about to leave, when the young man asked him if he should charge the advice, for which the fee was $5. The old fellow went into a violent passion, and swore he never would pay. The young lawyer told him he would soon "him if he didn't."

So the old fellow went down to see the judge, found him hoing in his garden, and said: "That young scamp that's just come into town! I dropped in to make a neighborly call on him, and he charged me $5 for legal advice."

"Served you right," said the judge; "you had no business to have gone to him."

"But have I got to pay it, judge?"

"Of course you have."

"Well, then," said the man, "I suppose I must," and he started off.

"Hold on said the judge; "aren't you going to pay me?"

"Pay you? What for?"

"For legal advice."

"What do you charge?"

"Ten dollars."

The result was the old fellow had to pay five dollars to the young lawyer and ten dollars to the old one.

The Best He Had.

The Providence Journal tells a little tale about the prosecution of William F. Blake for assault upon one McTernan. It is a true story, but is good enough to be fiction.

Mr. McTernan had detailed at some length how he had gone into the saloon at No. 885 Westminster street, at the request of Mrs. Margaret Colbert on the evening of Feb. 28; how he had been attacked, as he alleged, by William F. Blake, and had had a quartet of teeth completely dislodged by a blow from the defendant's fist; how he had then been kicked in the side thrice, and how he had borne it all without lifting his hands to defend himself. On the face of it up to that point the narrative sounded like one of agitated attack.

Then Harry P. Cross took the witness in hand to cross-examine him.

"You say Mr. Blake struck you in the mouth?" he asked.

"He did," was the emphatic reply.

"With his fist?"

"Yes, with his fist."

"And knocked out your teeth?"

"Yes, four teeth."

"Now, Mr. McTernan," asked the lawyer, "about these teeth. Were they false?"

"They were," said McTernan, after an instant's hesitation, "but they was all I had."

He Knew That Sign.

One day the teacher asked the third grade to tell some of the sure indications that spring had come. Silence reigned for a moment, and then Johnny said, "It is always a sure sign of spring when we change our underwear."—Little Chronicle.

It is related that a prisoner arrested for murder bribed a member of the jury with $100 to hang out for a verdict of manslaughter. The jury was out a long time and finally came in with a verdict of manslaughter. The man rushed up to the friendly juror and said: "I'm obliged to you, my friend. Did you have a hard time?" "Yes," said the juror, "an awful time. The other eleven wanted to acquit you."

Where His Orders Came From.

The one who enjoys a laugh will enjoy this:

A raw recruit in the cavalry, named Murphy, was given one of the worst buckers in the whole troop to ride. He had never been on a horse in his life, and the drill was anything but recreator to him as the sequel will show.

"Now, my men," said the sergeant, addressing them, "one is allowed to dismount without orders from a superior officer. Remember that."

Tim was no sooner in the saddle than he was hurled head over heels through the air, and came down so hard that the breath was knocked out of him.

"Murphy," shouted the sergeant, when he discovered the man sprawled out on the ground, "you dismounted."

"I did."

"Did you have orders? From headquarters, I suppose?" with a sneer.

"No, from hindquarters."

Boyhood of a Great Man.

The old schoolmaster looked over the exercise the lad had written.

"You have spelled that word 'honor' wrong," he said. "There should be a 'n' in it."

"No, there shouldn't!" hotly replied the lad. "I've spelt it right."

"I'll show you, sir!" rejoined the old schoolmaster, reaching for the rod.

After the physical exercise was over the boy returned to his seat with tears of rage and anguish in his eyes.

"I'll show him some day," he said, rubbing himself.

Years afterward that boy, grown to manhood, wrote a book, an enormous book, in which he not only insisted on spelling it "honor," but vindictively took all sorts of liberties with the style of penning taught him by the old pedagogue.

The name of that boy was Noah Webster.—Chicago Tribune.

To B. H. Leonard, Charles C. Kennedy, F. H. Kennedy and G. J. Crandall, owners, and F. Castleberry and Mrs. M. M. Castleberry, lessees, and E. M. Sullens tenant in possession.

You and each of you are hereby notified that The Dahlonega Gold Mining & Milling Co., a corporation of the state and county, owns a right of way for a ditch or waterway, over and through lot of land No. 122, in the 1st section of original Dahlonega, now Lumpkin County, Ga. Said ditch or waterway to be built and constructed according to the survey of the same by W. E. Jones, and is to extend ten feet on each side of the center line, constructed from the middle thereof. Said ditch shall not be deeper than three feet at the lowest point, except where it is necessary to make the same deep enough to form a uniform grade of four feet to each mile of ditch and is to be three feet wide at the bottom and four feet wide at the grade pegs.

The informer company has engaged W. B. Fry as its assessor and you are requested to select an assessor; the third assessor to be selected according to the number of votes cast. The same will be conducted, owing to failure to procure the same from you by contract, and the compensation to be paid you will be determined by the court of Ordinary of said County on Tuesday the 14th day of April, 1903. This the 25th day of March, 1903. The DAHLONEGA GOLD MINING CO.

Notice of the N. C. Temperance Law.

DAHLONEGA, GA., March, 1903.

MR. EDITOR:

I desire to express thanks for your personal notice of myself, as well as an advertisement as agent for the "Standard Dictionary" in the Press. I wish also to publish my congratulations for the advancement that the old north state has made in the establishment of the state temperance law, recently passed by the party of state in authority. I could but rejoice over this act of my native state, as much as I were a citizen thereof. Well do I remember when I was a small boy, as I think about the year 1830, when the Washingtonian Temperance society was established. When it was first introduced my father joined the society and became an active member of the temperance cause during his life.

My father was born in 1781, the youngest son of Philip Howard, and wife nee Marr Douthitt, in Surrey county, N. C. When a young man, about the year of his majority, he came up to Buncombe county and became a school teacher, which he continued to follow until about the year 1822. In 1811 I think he married my mother, Miss Sallie Fain, daughter of Ebenezer Fain and wife, who was a Miss Simpson. I was born in the year 1821, nine miles west of Asheville, being the fourth child. In 1822 my father moved to Macon county, N. C., and settled in what was known as Smith's Bridge district, near the Georgia line. He bought land and became a farmer. It was here that he joined a temperance society. With most of the other people, he became a dram drinker, as it was then the habit, as I remember, for the head of every family to have a bottle of intoxicants on their fire board or in their cupboard, and it was an act of hospitality to present their friends when they came to see them with a drink of spirits from their decanter. This practice established a habit for drinking, and often led to intoxication. My father stated that this habit prevailed throughout the country as far back as he could remember. When my father joined the temperance society, disposed with this habit entirely at his home and upon his farm and at all public workings, such as house raisings, log rollings and corn shuckings, &c. A great many people were offended and refused to aid him in such work because he would not have whiskey to give them during their work, but he was a decent man and moved forward and hired help to aid him on such occasions, and in a very few years a great many people saw the prosperity of such a cause and followed his example and greatly aided the temperance.

So the young people grew up and formed the same practice and were led to become temperance people, and we can say what a great blessing it would be if the drink habit was entirely abandoned throughout the whole country. The practice of our father on the temperance cause was adopted by his sons and grandsons.

We wish to say that a friend of ours read us the N. C. state temperance law as was published in the Press, March 11th. We were gratified indeed to hear what an advanced movement the temperance cause is making—not only our native state but throughout the country generally.

We may say something more on this subject in the future. We wish to remark here that when quite a boy, we remembered the Rev. Amos Curtis, a local Methodist preacher, who lived near us in Tennessee Valley. The last time we heard him preach he was quite an old man, at a camp-meeting located on the old Federal road three miles south of Fort Hembreeg, in which is now Clay county. At that time he was quite old and feeble. He preached and administered the sacrament. I do not remember the exact time, but likely between the year 1835 and 1840. The grandson of this old father in Israel, is now the editor of the Franklin Press. N. F. HOWARD, M. D., Dahlonega, Ga.

Digging For a Pot of Gold.

We are all dreamers, whether asleep or awake. We sleep and dream and awake to find our dream a baseless fabric. We build air castles in moments of wide-awake thought and meditation. We execute as we have planned, and happiness and wealth are the objects. The prophets of old dreamed dreams and had visions, and their actions were often influenced by their dreams. Last week in this county, near Woodstock, a well known farmer could have been seen digging a large hole in his horse lot. The expenditure of this muscle and energy, in the wielding of pick and shovel, was inspired by a dream. The gentleman had dreamed that a pot of gold was buried in the lot and that it is there now, and that the spot where the hidden treasure was placed was indicated by a certain depression in the ground. When he arose next morning with the vivid dream stirring his thoughts, he hurriedly sought the horse lot in search of the "yellow gold," with the same eagerness as the vast multitude has sought the Klondyke, with all its hardships and deprivations. When he reached the horse lot sure enough there could be seen the sink hole as pictured in his dream. Pick and shovel were brought into requisition, and day by day the hole has grown deeper and deeper in search of the pot of gold. It has not yet been unearthed by the clever and industrious farmer, but he has "faith" in his dreams and his "faith" is moving mountains of dirt in order to become possessed of that which will bring him happiness and wealth. His hopes may be shattered as thousands of human hopes have been, but the earnestness of his efforts is worthy of the richest reward.—Journal.

Changed the Sentence.

The leading council for the defense asked the judge for an investigation of the sentence on the ground that the prisoner's health was very poor.

"Your honor, I am satisfied that my client cannot live out half that sentence."

"Well under those circumstances," said the judge, "I will make it for life instead of seven years."

The judge was asked to abide by the original sentence.—Ex.

A shrewd Missouri lawyer who was conducting a divorce case closed the session when his wife fell sick to play for delay in anticipation of the woman's possible death. The woman actually did die before the case was heard, and the bar band fell heir to $80,000 of her property. The lawyer claimed a fee of $5,000, while the client was willing to pay only $900. The lawyer sued, and the court awarded him the full fee claimed. It all sounds rather heartless, still it is "law."

gro's will.

Mr. W. A. Martin of Norcross, was run over and killed the other night in Atlanta.

The president has given the citizens of Leonia, Miss., a negro postmaster recently.

1,000 men were killed and wounded in a battle between the Bulgarians and Turks recently.

Hon. R. J. Williams of Emanuel county has been elected to the trict.

The truckers of Polk county, Fla., have cleared $13,000 on 60 acres planted in strawberries this year.

The printing of the last Georgia Reports has been delayed on account of the printers strike in Atlanta.

The state board of education has decided to have the school census of the state taken during the months of June, July and August.

Mrs. John Griffin of Eatonton, was sent to jail the other day with a nine-months old child, charged with killing her husband.

Collector Crum of South Carolina, the negro recently appointed by the president, has been asked to resign by a special friend of this high official.

At Greenville, S. C., the other day several people were crazy enough to give 10 cents to see a dead negroes body that was executed and embalmed in February.

G. H. Sims, a young man of fashion, collection clerk for the Atlanta Capital City Bank, is charged up with a shortage—too much to be called stealing—of $64,000.

The attorney general has decided that parties who draw pensions in Georgia and afterwards move from the state, are not entitled to draw again should they return for 12 months.

Hon. J. A. Flanigan, representative from Gwinnett county, has been indicted for illegal voting.
It is charged that Mr. Flanigan has not paid his taxes for four years within the last ten years.

State school commissioner Mer-rett has been sending out checks this week for the school teachers of the state in payment for their work in February. The teachers will not likely be paid any more until the taxes are collected in the fall, as this fund is all exhausted.

A temporary injunction restrain-ing members of the Atlanta Typographical Union and Stereotypers' Union from interfering with men who desire to work in the printing establishments has been granted by Judge Lumpkin, and will be heard next Saturday.

At a negro wedding in Atlanta Sunday night the floor gave way and the bride, groom and about 200 other negroes fell fifteen feet below to the ground and there were more than the half married couple with but a single thought, whether their hearts beat as one or not we can't tell.

Coi Moore, who is operating for gold in the Dahlonega gold fields, spent several days with his Canton friends this week. He reports the mining outlook in Lumpkin most encouraging. Also the General Warner is preparing to resume operation at the Cherokee mine in this county, and that electrical power will be developed from Little River to run the machinery—Cherokee Advance.

ON TO GOLDEN CITY.

To Dahlonega and the Pyrites Mines the Cars Will Speed.

Last weeks Eagle has this to say about the railroad enterprise:

It is authoritatively given out this week that the Gainesville & Dahlonega Electric Railway Company will at once begin work on the line to Dahlonega.

A branch line will be built to the pyrites mines, some six or seven miles from Dahlonega. This new branch has been definitely decided upon this week, after a business conference between the railroad management and gentlemen who compose the firm owning and operating the Pyrites Mines—Messrs. Scott, Baldwin and Pratt.

The newly determined line will diverge from the Dahlonega road about five miles this side of that place and run directly in an air line almost up Long Branch to the mines.

It will be remembered that the gentlemen interested in the Pyrites works endeavored several years ago to secure railroad rights from their place to transport the ore, and that there was much interest in the respective chances of Gainesville or Lula securing the road.

Gainesville gets it now! This new development of the plans of the G. & D. Company will turn a much larger volume of freight business through our gates. The ore obtained in the Pyrites Mines is highly esteemed commercially for its value in the manufacture of sulphuric acid.

The cars are now running south which take in New Holland,
Green and Washington streets,
The Southern depot, and the Gainesville Cotton Mill.

From Cavender's Creek.

WILD, Ga., April 6, 1903.

MR. EDITOR:

We have had some fine days for work and have taken all the advantage that we could of the same.

We are getting on with the ditch all O. K. The contractors are getting closer and closer together as the days go by. Uncle Virge is pushing right on. He has one man by the name of Lewis Price that cut 50 feet of ditch in less than 10 hours, 3 feet wide and 3 feet deep. I say that is good work.

Our little stamp mill is doing good work. The plates are showing up nicely. We have also opened up some very fine veins
—some very fine veins or chutes that are paying well. We hope to find many of these when the water is put on and work opens up in good shape.

Capt. R. R. Asbury and Col.
Joe Underwood of White county, paid the Cavender creek camps a visit last Sunday night and cracked jokes with the boys. Come again.

From Auraria.

We had a light frost Sunday morning and it is expected that all the peaches were killed.

Mr. W. A. Crawford, who some time ago did some work on the Greenfield property, has again begun operations on this mine. He is now engaged in putting water on the mine and in the near future
he will erect a small stamp mill.

A party of northern men are expected at the Betz mine in a few days.

Rev. T. L. Robinson filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday.

There was a box supper at Elton yesterday last Saturday night.
Four or five dollars were raised, which will be used in buying seats for the church.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hutcheson of Freda, attended preaching at Auraria Sunday.

Coi Moore, who is operating

Dahlonega now has nine different mails.

Gen. and Mrs. Warner leave for the north next Monday.

John Chatten has been granted a new trial in the U. S. court.

We have in our city this morning ten or twelve northern gentlemen.

Mrs. Sallie Rice and Mrs. Walter Rice leave for Alabama today, where they expect to make it their future home.

Call at Mrs. Stricklands and get you a nice Easter hat, and see the prettiest line of millinery ever brought to Dahlonega.

Dr. W. W. McAfee of Atlanta, spent a day or two in Dahlonega this week, shaking hands with his numerous warm friends here.

Mr. L. L. Keck of Greenville, Pa., sends us a dollar and writes: "Keep the NUGGET coming. We cannot keep house without it."

Fine horse for sale. 7 years old. Works to any thing. Sound. Weight about 1,800 pounds.

J. V. HARRISON.

Parties wishing any attention paid to their communications must sign their real names, not for publication or to be exposed, but for our protection.

Mr. Charlie McAfee, after remaining in Atlanta a few weeks under treatment of the physicians, returned Monday very much improved in health.

Our stationery bill alone for the first three months of the present year has been $50.73, which shows that we have not been idle down here at the NUGGET office.

We understand that Sunday work, including sales, that are reported to be going on in and around Dahlonega, will be thoroughly investigated by the next grand jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Black of Dawson county, came up and spent Sunday night with their daughter here, Mrs. W. H. Jones. Mr. Black is an enterprising citizen, good farmer and one of the wealthiest men of that county.

If you want shoes, clothing, hats, shirts, dry goods or groceries; go to T. J. Smith & Bro. and get the best bargains in Dahlonega, if you haven't already tried them. Give them a trial order, then you will be convinced.

A little girl of Mr. "Pony" Crow came near being burned to death last Saturday. Fire caught her clothing while she was standing in front of it. She ran out into the yard and every garment she wore was burned off. The little girl is badly burned but will likely recover.

T. J. Smith & Bro. will have the most complete line of clothing in the course of 10 days, in Dahlonega. It will be to your interest to see them before purchasing anywhere else. They propose to sell at low prices for cash—they can save you money by waiting a few days.

The first mail we received over the new Sunday line was a proposition from a North Carolina distillery company, wishing to send us five gallons of six-year old whiskey for $15.00 in advertising and $5.00 in cash. It is useless for us to say that we didn't accept it. It would be entirely too fine for our blood. Upon failing to do this we don't think it will be bad luck, for a subscriber stepped up an hour later and tendered us $1.00 on subscription.

Gen. Warner, after being in the cast for several days, returned last Saturday.

Mrs. Lowe, who was recently adjudged a lunatic, was carried to the asylum by sheriff Davis yesterday.

Wagon tracks often give way blockade stills, and buggy tracks sometimes tell the tale of two lovers.

Dr. Whelchel went down in Hall county last Sunday and spent the night with his father who is not very well.

Tax Collector Walden sent off his first special taxes last Saturday evening. It was a photographers of $10.00.

It will soon be decoration day, but as it comes on Sunday, we guess it will be put off here like Gen. Lee's birth day.

The health of Dahlonega was never better and the doctors are to sit around and spin yarns with the rest of the boys.

Anderson & Jones want options on several thousand acres of timbered lands in White, Lumpkin and Dawson counties.

Dr. Palmer, the well known dentist, will be found until the latter part of next week at Hall's Villa, room No. 2, ready to do all kinds of dental work.

Mr. Dave Jarrard, who we mentioned as being arrested last week while in an illicit distillery, was bound over to U. S. court. He made bond and will get to enjoy fresh air for some time yet.

Postmaster Farrow of Gainesville, went up to Porter Springs last Sunday for the purpose, we suppose of having his garden planted for the use of his summer guests, as he generally does it about this season every year.

On Friday last the weather was warm and pleasant and many young mens' straw hats were in full bloom. Saturday a heavy cold wind blew from the north and on the morning following there was a big frost and plenty of ice.

Sheriff Davis went over into Union county Friday while the weather was warm and pleasant. That night it turned cold and it snowed on him the next day. Ice could be seen about the water courses as long as your finger, while his over coat was at home.

If you don't believe the mountain women will fight, just try them. Not long ago Jim Ray, who use to live in this county, went up to Jim Adams's while under the influence of liquor, so we are informed, and misbehaved. The result was: Mrs. Adams picked up a chair and made several bruises and black places on his forehead.

A few days ago a mountaineer appeared in the outskirts of Dahlonega riding a horse, carrying all the liquor he could manage in jugs and bottles, remanding us of Santa Clause with a load of presents on Christmas eve for the children. The officers got wind of his arrival but he rid himself of all his decorations before they saw him.

The normal course here for teachers at the N. G. A. College, which begins the 27th inst. will be largely attended, as President Stewart is receiving letters nearly every day in reference to the matter. A number of leading educators of the state will be present, who will tell those in attendance, something that will be both interesting and beneficial.

A few Early Rose seed left, 35c. peck. Easy bright stove polish 5c. a box. Polish your stove and stopper. Black ink put in your bottle, 1c. Pure South Georgia syrup, 50c. 8 day alarm clock $2.25 cents. Nice mirrors, 7 to 15 cents. Fresh oat meal, 10 cents a pack. Extra fine corn meal, 80 cents. Sleeveless undervests for ladies, 5 to 25 cents. A nice line of white lawns, dimities, lace and embroidery at prices less than you get in railroad towns. Come to see us.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

The county finance committee will commence its work next Monday.

Miss Bessie Miller of Auraria, has been visiting friends in Dahlonega this week.

"Long" John Anderson was arrested yesterday and bound over charged with blockading.

Dahlonega had her first Sunday mail last Sabbath, and it is a great convenience and pleasure all.

Yes, if it is nice round cornered or square visiting cards you want, we have them at the NUGGET office.

H. E. Watson's City Barber Shop is the place to get a nice clean shave, hair cut or a shave shine.

The roads of the county are receiving attention now. Always do just before the Superior court convenes.

Our friend Mr. Aca Crenshaw of New Bridge, was up last Tuesday for the first time in a good while. We are always glad to see him.

Our citizens are well pleased with the new daily mail line from Gainesville. It gives us a better system than we have ever enjoyed before.

We will sell you 18 pounds of Standard granulated sugar, 50 lb best patent flour and 2 one pound cans of Romford baking powders. All for $3.00. F. L. REESE.

The merchants of Dahlonega are offering good inducements to the trading public and there is no excuse for going off to Gainesville to trade any longer.

We have a scholarship in The Lenier Southern Business College at Macon, Ga., and anyone wishing to enter this institution will find it to their interest to first see the editor of the NUGGET.

All of the parties who went to work on the Tennessee railroad with Mr. Ray have returned, we believe, except three. They have been dropping in one and two at a time for several days, like soldiers returning there was a big frost and plenty of ice.

The Dahlonega Hotel is now managed by Mrs. R. H. Webb, who solicits a share of the public patronage. The table will be supplied with the best market afford at low rates.

April 1st.

The cadets, for several evenings, have been engaged with picks, shovels, hoes, rakes and every other kind of an implement that any work can be done with, getting the drill ground in tip top shape, causing it to present a nice appearance.

Let everyone in the county who can read, take the NUGGET. Remember that your country paper works unceasingly for the advancement of your town and county and it is the duty of all to patronize it. We are not grumbling, for our patronage has been good, but it is natural for us to want all to take our paper.

It was announced last Sunday morning at both churches that services would be held in the court house at 3 o'clock that afternoon for men only. But few attended, for many believed likely that the minister would use language that was not decent for ladies to listen to and they didn't wish to hear it. If it was the intention of the divine he didn't carry out the program, for we are told that it was nothing more than what is heard at the churches in the presence of all. We don't believe smutty language from the mouths of preachers is any benefit to them or to the congregation. Some years ago a preacher held services in the court house and what he had heard about them and the women. Not long afterwards he was on trial in the Methodist conference for improper language spoken to one of the member's wives and the proof was so plain that he had to quit preaching and go into the news paper business. Services will be held again next Sunday at the court house for the benefit of all those who wish to attend.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Mr. F. P. Catchings is up from Gainesville.

Remember that we keep most kind of a blank you need. A list will be found elsewhere in this paper.

Messrs. L. K. Donavin, F. T. Rutherford, D. R. Windall, F. N. Sinks, all of Columbus O., stockholders of Crown Mountain mine arrived here last night.

Dr. A. E. Stone, a dentist from Alpharetta, Ga., is at Hall's Villa. This is the Doctor's first trip to the Golden city and we hope he will find everything pleasant during his stay with us.

Mr. Miller of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., has been up this week making an estimate of what it will cost to put the telephone line from this place to Gainesville in first class shape.

Court will soon be here and we invite those who are not already taking the NUGGET to call round when they come to town and drop a dollar in the slot and keep posted about home affairs as well as many other things of general interest.

We notice that one person states that they are going to leave Dahlonega because Coca-cola is sold here. This reminds us of the fellow who got into trouble in Texarkana and after biting out of reach of the officers sent for an attorney, and after stating the case to the lawyer asked him what he must do. The reply was: "Leave out." The defendant then asked: "Where in the h—l will I go to? I am already in Texas." Coca-cola is sold every where now. Where will the party go?

Mrs. E. F. Jackson died at this place on Friday afternoon after a long illness, aged about 72. The deceased was the mother of Messrs. T. F. and John Jackson, residents of this place. She was born in South Carolina, and came to Dahlonega when quite a little girl, where she has remained ever since; always living a Christian life and is now at rest. We deeply sympathize with her husband who has been robbed of his companion by the cold hand of death, and is now left alone after so many long years of enjoyment and happiness with the one he loved so well.

"The one above knows all," is a very good saying, especially in a case the other night where a fellow got up on the shed about a mile from town and saw six persons, three males and three females, some of them married, who had slipped off from their homes and met their fate for illegitimate purposes. The "green corn," dances Indians use to have is said to be a thin affair to this. The females were rigged up in their best and such actions rarely occur in a civilized community. All the money here has been sent off to the foreign missions and there is none left to hire some one to teach them that the devil is knocking at their doors.

It will be seen from an article in this issue copied from last week's Gainesville Eagle that the Dahlonega Electric Railway Co. will commence the extension of its road to Dahlonega at once. We thought so all along until yesterday, but it will not be done, and in fact the road may never be built. For the construction of an enterprise of this kind its promoters must receive the hearty co-operation of all our citizens and a reasonable compensation asked by those living along its line for damages. Instead of this they are throwing every obstacle in the way possible, wanting unreasonable damages. For instance one man, who returns his property at $8,000 wants them to pay him $500 a year or more damages or $10,000 for his property. Thus the promoters won't do, and rather than spend all the money they can raise to fight such cases in the courts, they will throw up the sponge, lose what money they have put into the enterprise and quit the ranch. Now this is its condition and if it is built early, able to receive reasonable compensation for damages.

AURARIA MINING NEWS.

In mining looking up in this neck of the woods. The Briar Patch is just hummin'. Messrs. Tower & Miller are shoving things in great shape, putting in a wooden bridge across the Chester river so as to give Ball Play Creek Ditch more attention.

Mr. J. A. Hollifield (known as Dunk,) is certainly the right man in the right place. Dunk knows how to get good work results with his men, he gets down and helps

Mining Notes.

Mr. Tregent says that everything down at the Barlow is running smoothly and satisfactorily.

Operations at the Calhoun is moving along as usual. It is useless for us to say that they are making money down there, for they never fail.

It will be seen from our Auraria and Cavender Creek correspondents that they are wide awake in the mining interest in the vicinity of both places.

Mr. Bruce is moving right along on lot 827 where recently found a pocket, the ore of which made sixteen and a half pennyweights to the pound, according to a large vein.

Roberts & Sons, not being able to do any good on the Gordon property mining after the Barlow dam was rebuilt, moved their little five stamp mill up on the Murray lot near where Stow's new mill use to be and are now doing very well.

Mr. Maxwell's report to the president of the Consolidated Co. about the Mexico smelter, has not yet been submitted to the board of directors. As soon as this is done the cost of running it at their mine in Dahlonega will be calculated, and if found practicable will install one or more at an early day.

The richness of the Crown Mountain gold mine and the cheapness with which the plant is being operated, it is bound to pay. Just think about a 60 stamp mill, including three Huntingtons being run by only 12 men, 6 at day and 6 at night, and only 35 men are on the pay roll for the entire plant—power plant, cuts, pumps, etc.

Mr. Wm. Campbell is still engaged down at the Singleton with several hands taking out and crushing ore with satisfactory results. This mine always paid well when run by men of practical experience before becoming the property of the Standard and will do so again when Mr. Campbell gets it shaped up to his notion.

We have had with us this week Messrs. A. L. Merrick, N. E. Dill enback, Philip F. Schneider of Syracuse, N. Y., and Mr. C. L. Kellogg of Watertown, N. Y. They are in search of mica and went in company with Mr. J. H. Helmer to examine some property he has in Union, consisting of 2,400 acres, which he says contains valuable mica in large quantities.

Those wishing to go into the gold mining business will find it to their interest to read the advertisement of Rev. W. H. McAfee, real estate agent, to be found elsewhere, who now offers for sale some very valuable gold mining property in both Lumpkin and White counties. Mr. McAfee is well known to us. He is perfectly reliable and what he tells you can be depended upon.

The Pyrites mine in this country has been thoroughly developed by Mr. Pratt and his associates, giving entire satisfaction as to its great value, and the only thing they need now for its profitable operation is transportation. This is why work has ceased until some arrangements can be made for the building of a railroad to the works. The Southern railroad's engineer, while on a visit to it the other day, remarked that it was the biggest thing he ever saw. Others also say so, and it is not far distant when hundreds of hands will be working at this mine getting out ore and loading railroad cars for shipment.

SAINTARY MINING NEWS.

In mining looking up in this neck of the woods. The Briar Patch is just hummin'. Messrs. Tower & Miller are shoving things in great shape, putting in a wooden bridge across the Chester river so as to give Ball Play Creek Ditch more attention.

Mr. Hollifield (known as Dunk,) is certainly the right man in the right place. Dunk knows how to get good work results with his men, he gets down and helps them, and is not afraid to work. He has completed the reservoir, and is shoving the ditch now to please everybody. The Company is expected very soon, and they will open the valve and let business shove off in big shape.

Jack Norrell has got some fine openings in the hills, and the placer is and is showing up good enough to satisfy the most doubtful Thomas.

Quite a crowd of gentlemen in company with Mr. Arnold, just arrived from Philadelphia for the Beta mine. This is a No. 1 property, and Mr. Arnold seems to know his business, and will have something done at this mine soon, and we expect big things of him, and don't doubt in the least, that he will fall short of our expectations for there are millions of the precious metal in the Beta Mine.

The old reliable and up to date miner, W. A. Crawford, is holding things down at the Greenfield Mine, adjoining the Betz, and will soon have his mine in shape to put in a large mill. He is cutting a canal to furnish water to sluice the ores down, and will soon have it completed, then watch him make the gold. It's there, and W. A. knows how to get it.

Mr. Jaquish is expected to start up in a few days on the Etowah Gold Mining & Milling Co.'s property, and by crackjacks he is going to produce some of the yellow stuff too, for there is bushels and bushels of gold on the hills and river on this fine property. A favorite expression of Mr. Jaquish, "Heavens and earth." Well there is a heaven, we believe, and we know there is an earth, And that particular part of the earth that is taken up by the Etowah Gold Mining & Milling Co.'s property, is going to cut a big road in the mining business this year, 1903, and if there is a mining man that thoroughly understands his business H. D. Jaquish does.

Mr. McMahan is expected to have things going very soon, on Mill Creek, and as Boney Tank says let her roll. Boney is willing to help hold Mill Creek down, and we believe as Boney does that that is a heap of gold on Mill Creek. Just watch us, we are coming to the front to stay, and are going to astound the natives by producing more gold in this good year, 1903, than has ever been produced in one year heretofore.

Marshal Kerns and Tinet Dale are finding some nice gold on the Palmetto property. This is a 2nd Briar Patch and before many months will be producing the yellow metal. There is no doubt in the least but what this is a fine placer mine for it is just below all the brake downs and is the finest catch on the river and the gold can't help but be there in big paying quantities.

Proceedings of City Council.

The city council met last Monday evening and transacted the following business:

Appropriated $100.00 for the building of a fence around the school house.

Condemned the old blacksmith shop fronting the residence of Mr. T. S. Littlefield, belonging to Mrs. John Tate and Mr. Tom Tate, and ordered the same to be torn down in fifteen days.

The following accounts were approved and ordered paid, to-wit:

H. D. Ingersoll $4.00, J. E. McGee $15.22, W. B. Townsend $7.85 and W. J. Worley $0.00.

The services of the night watchmen were continued until the 15th inst., and the same left with the mayor if he thinks his services are needed longer to continue him.

The Marshals reports for March is as follows:

Sanitary tax collected and turned over to the city treasurer $65.00, dog tax $16.00. Street tax $5.00 fines and costs collected 115.25.

Prof. Rogers will attend the county teacher's meeting in Marion next week and address them on the subject of agriculture in common schools.

Leaving the Latchstring Out.

During the French and Indian war, says the Youth's Companion, many towns and settlements in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, as in other sections of the country, suffered severely from Indian raids.

A family of Friends, who lived in a lonely house not far from the Delaware river, and seemed to feel no fear, took no precautions against the savages. Their simple dwelling had never known a lock or bolt, and the only concessions they had ever made to the custom of "the world's people" was to pull in, at night, the string that lifted the wooden latch of their door. Even this precaution seemed to them needless, and was as often forgotten as remembered.

Prowling parties of Indians had begun frightful ravages in the vicinity of the settlement, and evidences of their cruel work could be seen every day nearer and nearer. Warnings came to the Quaker and his wife, and one night the effect of the fears of others more than their own kept them awake.

The argument of the old Friend with himself as he lay thinking was after this fashion: He had always trusted in God; yet to-night he had pulled in the latchstring. A measure to prevent intrusion meant suspicion. Suspicion, under the circumstances, meant fear.

He talked the matter over with his wife. It would be safer now to test their faith than to throw it away, she said. She agreed with him, and he got up and hung out the latchstring again.

Less than half an hour afterward the Indians came. The defenseless inmates of the house were wholly at their mercy. They heard the savage band creep by their bedroom window and pause as if surprised to find the latchstring out. Then they heard them open the door. A matted talk in the native tongue kept the listeners in suspense for a minute or two; then the door was shut softly and the raiders went away.

The next day the smoke of ruined dwellings in sight of their cabin, and the lamentation of neighbors over their killed or captured kindred, told the innocent Friends what they had escaped.

It was not until years afterward, during a conference between the colonists and the Indians, that the story was told of what passed that fatal night at the Quaker's door. A chief, who had himself been the leader of the gang in the attack on the white settlement, declared that when he saw the latchstring out, the sign of fearless confidence made him change his mind. He held a short parley with his followers, and the substance of it was:

"These people are no enemies. See, they are not afraid of us. They are protected by the Great Spirit."

The incident illustrates the safeguards which surrounded the peaceable and inoffensive. They think no harm and expect none. They suffer no violence because they challenge none. Those persons the latchstring of whose heart is always out are also those who meet with trust and confidence and love on the part of others.

Joe Berry Goes Again.

Joe Berry, whose crimes in Hall, White and Banks counties are well known to the people throughout this section, has gone "around the mountain" again. This time it was for perjury in Oklahoma, and he was last week sent up for a term of six years. His most daring theft, or wholesale robbery, was that of stealing the Alliance store in White county, when, it is said, that he stole everything in the store but a pair of suspenders hanging on the wall which he failed to see. Joe was a notorious character, and was a genuine "artist." The officers of the law could no more keep him in prison than that he was not in, for he would manage to escape somehow.—Gainesville News.

The cost of small pox to Elbert county is $4,560.28.

Will be Extra Session.

Secretary Hay, when apprised of the action of the Cuban Senate in ratifying the reciprocity treaty, expressed his gratification.

But three days remain of the time limit within which ratification can be exchanged. Secretary Hay said however, that as soon as office notification is given by cable of the mailing of the necessary documents the ratifications can be exchanged at once without waiting for their receipt.

Secretary Hay added that in his messages to minister Squires he gave the positive assurance that the president would call an extra session of congress in the fall.—News.

It was about six years ago, says the New York Tribune, that Church congregations in this city and elsewhere listened to discourses by their pastors on the "Jonah and the Whale Miracle." The summing up of the majority of these sermons was that it was a mere store intended to teach a moral. Is the same reasoning to be adduced from the story from Buffalo on Sunday that an operation for indigestion performed on a young man, a cook, only 24 years old, resulted in taking from his stomach 458 carpet tacks, 41 small knife blades, 142 screw nails, 40 shoemaker's awl points, 6½ ounces of ground glass and a wire chain about three inches long? Naturalists have many times expressed the doubt that a whale could have swallowed Jonah, while they admit the possibility of him being swallowed by many another sea monster. What will they say of Trimble's stomach? Then on yesterday, was published a story that one of the steerage passengers on the steamship Campania coughed up an eel from his stomach, and the thing wriggled away. It was thought that the eel had been crawling around in the man's stomach for years. Avast, ye doubters! If Jonah, or even the whale that swallowed him, could live through the ordeal, is there any reason to be incredulous about the Buffalo cook or the immigrant passenger?

THE DARLONEGA GOLD MINING &

MILLING CO.

By W. S. Huff,

His Attorney at Law.

Big Watermelons.

Senator Dolliver of Iowa, has a constituent who has made a great discovery, says the New York World. He writes that last summer he grafted a watermelon on a pond-lily root, and the result was a watermelon ten feet in circumference that grew while floating in the water of the mill-dam.

This Iowan says he will revolutionize the watermelon business. He plans to raise watermelons one of which will be big enough to supply a fair-sized city. His only bother, so far as he can see it, will be to get transportation facilities. After he has hauled out the watermelons and placed them on flat cars he thinks they won't go under the bridges.—Ex.

A Severe Cold For Three Months.

The following letter from A. J. Nuttall, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months from a cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and eight doses cured me."

A Chattanooga Druggist's Statement.

Robert J. Miller, proprietor of the Read House Drug Store, of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "There is more merit in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR than in any other cough syrup. The calls for it multiply wonderfully and we sell more of it than all other cough syrups combined."

Out of The Darkness Into
The Light of The World.

The first issue of a book, that is now being prepared by Matthew McDonald will be ready for publication in about eight months.

The character of the reading, from which a young man will derive the greatest pleasure, and which will prove to the greatest benefit to him is largely dependent. Of course upon his individual tastes and upon the business or profession in which he is engaged or which he hopes to enter obviously, all a young man's reading should center around the field of activity which is to be found in his life work. He cannot too thoroughly familiarize himself with his chosen sphere. And yet specialization, which appears to be the dominant tendency of the age, should not begin too early. Expert knowledge in a special line should rest upon a firm foundation of general information, historical reading, as it seems to me. Essential and naturally a young man will derive the greatest benefit from a thorough insight into the History of the United States and of Great Britain. To my mind, the most interesting form of history is exemplified by the American statesman series, now completed. I believe in biography. It leads the element of personal interest to historical research, and fixes the colors so to speak. Pleasure and relaxation may be found in fiction, but I do not believe that in the majority of cases the so-called historical novels are of any distinct value historically. It is extremely unlikely that in the case of a novel written, perhaps several centuries after the period portrayed, the author can have reproduced the atmosphere of the time. And on the other hand there is always the danger that such a work will foster a misconception of the characters of personages of the period. For the young man who wishes to exercise discrimination in his reading the rule, never to read a book until two years after it has been published, is by no means a bad one. In my own case I have adopted a modification of this injunction; namely, never to purchase a book until after I have read it. If upon perusal a volume appeals to me sufficiently, I make the purchase. Every man should read one good newspaper each day. I do not mean, of course, that he should read everything in it, but he should go over the entire contents carefully, making his selections and reading attentively the articles which give promise of being helpful or instructive. The weekly, and more particularly the monthly reviews are also of great value, from the fact that they familiarize their readers with current history, which after all, is the most important history, while at the same time possessing some advantages over the daily newspapers, because the editors are not compelled to accept first reports. And also have opportunity to correct and inaccuracies which may creep into hurriedly prepared discussions of subjects, nevertheless, these reviews must ever but supplement the daily newspapers, for we are not content in this age to wait until the end of the month for our news.

The longer I live the more I am certain that the great difference between the great, the small, the weak and the insignificant energy, the higher a man goes the faster he ought to walk.

MATTHEW McDONALD.

A CASE OF DIPLOMACY.

He Understood the old Man's Ways and So Won a Bride.

"Diplomacy, my boy, diplomacy," laughed the young man in response to a question from a friend who had received one of the cards.

"Her father isn't such a bad chap if you know how to handle him. I will admit that getting his consent to our marriage caused the girl and I no end of concern, but I went at it in the right way and won."

"Her father is a man who likes to have his own way, which, as a matter of fact, is bound to be different from that of any one else. Knowing this, I called upon him at his office to get his consent, but I was wise enough not to ask it in a direct way.

"I suppose you know," I began as the old man sat in his chair and glared at me, "that I have paid a good deal of attention to your daughter. Much to my regret, it has gone much farther than I wish it had. Your daughter has assured me that I alone can make her happy, and I am afraid that she speaks the truth. I will be candid with you, sir, and say that at the time I thought I loved her, but I have found one whom I love more, and I have called upon you, sir, for assistance in breaking off an attachment that I have found unbearable."

"What's that?" shouted the old man, sitting bolt upright in his chair.

"Your assistance, sir? I continued. "I know that you have been opposed to my marrying your daughter, and I thought that you would be willing to assist me in breaking the unfortunate attachment that your daughter bears for me."

"Never!" roared the old man. "You miserable scoundrel! What do you mean by playing with my daughter's heart and then casting it lightly aside? By heavens, you will marry her or I'll know the reason why! At once, sir; at once!"

"Well there is no use repeating all the old man said, for he kept it up until he ran out of breath and had succeeded in frightening me into agreeing to marry the girl.

"The old man is all right if you know how to handle him. I have served notice on him that I don't want him to make a vulgar display by placing a big check among the wedding presents, and if there isn't a good fat one there I'll be very much mistaken."

What He Felt Like.

The minister had said:

"This collection is for the relief of the flood sufferers. Each of you may give whatever he feels like."

Many gave liberally, some less so, and one man who had plenty gave none at all, says the Baltimore American.

For he was stingy. However, he had a conscience. And when the collection plates were back in their places once more the man arose and said:

"Did I understand rightly when I thought your reverence said we were to give 'whatever we felt like?'

"I believe that is what I said, though, of course, I expressed the idea incompletely."

"Well," said the conscience stricken brother, "if you'll send that plate back to me I'll give 30 cents."

A business man in a Tennessee town got mad at the editor of a local paper about something which appeared in the paper, and notified the editor with great gusto that he was going to have his printing done elsewhere in the future. He thought of course the paper would have to quit business, but it kept on going. In about two months the man's daughter married and they had a big blow out, but not a line appeared in the paper about it. Later on his wife gave a big reception to some visitors, but no line about it appeared in the paper. Later on the man's youngest child died, but not a line about it appeared in the paper. The next fall a mass meeting was held in town to see about public improvements and this business man made a big speech. The meeting was written up in full except the man's speech. This part was skipped. Then the business man called and asked the editor what he "had it in for him" about. "Oh, nothing at all," replied the editor. "You remember you got mad last year and said that you were going to have your printing done elsewhere, so I thought I'd just let your city newspaper, where you had your printing done, print the account of your daughter's wedding, your wife's reception, your child's obituary, and you speech." —Waldo (Fla.) Advertiser.

Finally Got It.

"What do you want, little boy?" asked the druggist, according to the Chicago Tribune.

"Say, mister," said the boy, who had been wrinkling his face, scratching his head and rubbing his right foot up and down his leg in the effort to remember something that had escaped him, "what's the name of that place where we've got so many soldiers?"

"Fort Sheridan?"

"No; it's a good deal furder away than that."

"The Philippines?"

"That ain't just it, but its somewhere around there."

"You don't mean Manila?"

"Manilla! That's right! I knew I'd get it after awhile. I want a bottle of Manilla extract for flavoring ice cream. How much?"

The remark of Thomas J. Hughes, Mayor of Seattle, when the grand jury indicted him for malfeasance in office, was an interesting political observation.

"If the grand jury has indicted me," he is quoted as saying, "it may as well indict every man that voted for me. I told them how I would run the town and I have done just as I promised."

THE NUGGET.
DAHLONEGA, APRIL 23, 1903.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.
Official Organ of both City and County.

The Ohio river rose very rapidly again this week.

Dr. J. R. Riley, a negro of New York, will lecture on the race question at Gainesville tonight, being Gainesville's first colored lecturer.

In the trial in Kentucky of Howard for the murder of Goebel, Frank Cecil swore that governor Taylor offered him $2,500 and a pardon if he killed Goebel.

Miss Rebecca J. Taylor, the woman clerk discharged from the war department for criticizing the administration has fallen heir to a fortune of $300,000.

Miss Mary McNeills has brought suit against United States Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, for breach of promise of marriage to the sum of $300,000.

In Texas a careless workman kicked over a lantern last week starting a fire that resulted in the loss of $1,000,000 and the bankruptcy of twenty or more companies.

A negro was lynched at Joplin, Mo., one night last week for murdering a policeman. The mob then destroyed several negro houses with fire and set the darkies to flight.

The city council of Winder, Ga., has assessed the newspapers of that place a special tax for doing business there. Both editors should pull up stakes and leave there just to show this silly council that it hasn't got judgement enough to run the people's business.

A bank clerk in Atlanta is short nearly a hundred thousand dollars. His raid has been going on for years without detection. Bank examiners to be unmitigated bugs, and the fame of the expert is founded, principally, in the eyes of the public, truthfully remarks the Sparta Ishmacile.

Uniform text-books for the state will be one of the problems to come before the legislature at the approaching session. Each county should be allowed to decide this question without any interference from the state, just as it is done, thinks the Sanderville Progress. It is not looking after the interest of the poor people but the rich book trusts.

The executive committee of the Macon Fair Association has decided to put up a premium of $500 at the State Fair this fall to be contested for by the volunteer militia companies of Georgia. Another $500 was put up to be contested for by the companies of cadets at the various military colleges in the state. A $250 premium was put up to be contested for by the brass bands of the state. The list of premiums has been arranged. One thousand and seven hundred dollars over the $25,000 guaranteed has been raised, and 10 per cent has been paid to the treasurer. Cadets, of the N. G. A. College, look to your interest.

Chief of Police B. H. Sparks, of Gainesville shot and killed a young white man named Frank Redman on Oak street while trying to arrest him for shooting Rol Peeler, another young white man last Saturday. Upon entering the house where Redman was the chief ordered Redman to throw up his hands. Instead of doing this he raised his pistol to shoot the chief, but the latter was too quick for him and shot him dead. Coroner Dorsey held an inquest over the body afterwards and the verdict of the jury was that the killing was justifiable homicide. The dead man's pistol was found on the floor cocked. Redman is a brother of the one killed in Lumpkin county some years ago by Mr. D. S. Prewitt, who was sheriff at that time, because he resisted arrest.

Mining Notes.

We see in the Cherokee Advance from a correspondent, that he claims that they have a way of extracting fine gold from the ground now by means of a plow having an amalgamated plate attached which catches the fine particles of gold coming in contact with the plow plate. The "expert" fails to give his true name and we don't believe in his project.

The case of F. S. Packard vs. the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co., was continued until the next term of the court. This is a suit brought against the company by Mr. Packard who is dissatisfied with the amount of damage allowed him recently for the cutting of a canal through his property, as fixed by arbitrators appointed in accordance with the law in such cases.

We have nothing of importance to report in mining circles this week. Everything is moving along about as usual. Crown Mountain is only running 20 stamps until some new dies are received, and Cavender's Creek operations will not start up again we learn until the first of next month. Dr. Purdy of Ohio is still here and seems to be interested and we think is taking some leases on certain mining property.

It is a great pity that the Consolidated Co. ever cut the water off of the Barlow property, for it is one of the best mines in the county. Several parties are engaged there now taking out ore and would make big money if they had only sufficient water. Mr. Tregent is now working on a very rich vein what use to be called the Swindling Vein. Being given this name because parties were accused of swindling it's owner once while taking out the valuable ore. The quartz show much gold and is a fine proposition.

The suit of the Pyrites Co. vs. the Cavenders Creek Co., endeavoring to enjoin the latter from using certain waters running into the Chestatree river above where the former company anticipates building a dam, was dismissed by Judge Kimsey last Tuesday after strong arguments on both sides by the Pyrites Co. being represented by Col. W. A. Charters of Dahlonega, and the other by Col. H. H. Dean of Gainesville. Although the Pyrites Co. hasn't cut a stick of timber towards the construction of its dam it asks for the cutting of the Cavender's Creek canal, which can't possibly do any damage for many months, to be discontinued. The case will go to the Supreme court. If imaginary damages holds good it will be a poor inducement for corporations to invest any more money in Georgia's soil, and block the wheels of progress on every hand, which effects not only the capitalists but down to the poor laborer who handles the pick and the shovel.

Uniform text-books for the state will be one of the problems to come before the legislature at the approaching session. Each county should be allowed to decide this question without any interference from the state, just as it is done, thinks the Sanderville Progress. The fine blooded horse of Simmons, the Atlanta defaulter, will be auctioned off within a few days.

Balie Chance, an insane man of Brunswick, died one day last week from a stroke of apoplexy.

Dr. Ed. Watkins of Ellijay, says he will be in the race for congress next time. This doesn't mean that he will get there.

Morally Asleep.

By request we publish the following:

A great many of the best people of this section are asleep. Dead asleep—so asleep that we fear when the final trumpet that preachers talk about as played, or sounded, that they will continue asleep, and never awaken until the Horrid Horned One sticks a live coal to their backs in the Great Below.

We do not refer to Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists or any denominations are worth little to the church. We refer to all the people. We're talking those who keep a jug under their counters and walk up to the front seat on Sunday with a Bible tract in every vest pocket. We refer to those who spend every day in the week seeing how many people they can beat out of a dollar, and Sunday reading the Bible. Local News.

Tax Receiver Healan has been making his first round for the past few days.

Lawyers, if you need nice colored paper to cover your documents, either printed or blank, we can supply you.

The frequent showers have kept the ground so wet that the farmers of this section have been unable to do anything.

Capt. F. M. Williams is the present foreman of the grand jury and Mr. John Jenkins is clerk. They make good ones and all are pleased.

In transcribing our list of subscribers and renewals from our memorandum book, if any errors occur those interested will please notify us at once.

Mr. Ben Gaillard of Gainesville, is here this week. This gentleman is one of the leading young attorneys of the 9th district and has a bright future before him.

Parties from Dawson county this week inform us of the death of the oldest person in that country, being Mr. John Evans who passed away last week at the ripe of age of 96.

A telephone message received Monday stated that Mrs. J. B. Anderson at Birmingham, Ala., was at the point of death and her mother left here the next morning for that place.

We had the pleasure of meeting for the first time this week Mr. D. M. McKee, one of Dawson counties most wide awake merchants, a brother to Mr. J. H. McKee, a former citizen of Dahlonega.

Gentlemen, accept our thanks for the many subscriptions, renewals and money handed us this week. We will endeavor to keep the Nugget up to its present standard and make it to your interest as well as ours.

"The reason the Nugget is so popular" remarked a gentleman the other day, "is because it treats the rich and the poor the same, and tells the truth, let it hurt who it may." This is quite a compliment and we return thanks.

Dahlonega hasn't been visited by any ravens lately, but on last Monday Mr. Jess Turner found a swarm of bees settled on the ditch bank near his house and he made it convenient to give them shelter, whether they were aimed for him or not.

Last week while the Blue Ridge was covered with snow Mr. Robt. Long and other parties killed four rattlesnakes on the other side of the mountain, one of which measured more than four feet in length. When found they were chilled so by the sudden cold wave that they were unable to fight.

The most important case here this week was that of the state vs. Rob Long, charged with the murder of one of the Clerks, whose trial was continued on account of the absence of Johnnie Long of Fannin county, whose wife was in such a condition that he couldn't leave her and the case was continued for the term.

W. P. Price, Jr., keeps Cuba molasses that will suit the taste of all those enjoying something nice. Mr. Price has just returned from market and has on hand now one of the best lot of gents goods ever brought to Dahlonega. Besides this he has something in the dry goods line that will please all the ladies. Call and see him.

Mart Wehunt, known here as "Red Fox," was put in jail last Monday because he was behind $12.50 in his divorce suit. So it seems that a fellow gets into it sometimes when he marries, and when trying to slide out he does the same. This is the man whose wife served out a sentence in the chain gang some time ago, rather than let him sell his horse to pay her fine, and after she satisfied the law and returned home her husband commenced suit for a divorce. Such is life.

See the tax receivers second round in this issue.

Don't forget to return your town taxes. The time will soon be out.

A small lot of clothing will be at H. D. Gurleys at absolute cost, go at once before they are picked over.

Five cadets left last Sunday for the fishing streams across the Blue Ridge and spent Monday catching mountain trout.

Mrs. Joe Miller and her beautiful and accomplished daughter of Aurora, were among the visitors here this week.

Judge Huff borrowed $500 from the Bank of Dahlonega to run the court this week. The interest being very reasonable.

The readers of the Atlanta Constitution are pleased because Sunday also reaches us the same day it is printed, same as the Journal.

On Thursday of last week Jas Grizzel was wedded to Miss Mattie Bruce, daughter of Mr. John K. Minsey, by Rev. J. A. Berry. All of this country.

Col. W. F. Findley of Gainesville, who was a strong supporter of Col. Estell at the last election for governor, came up to us this week.

Col. Jos Underwood, that live, wide awake and popular representative from White county, was down this week, mixing and mingling with the people.

For sale, by W. H. Satterfield nine or ten one-month old pigs of Bakshrike mixed with other fine stock at $1.00 each. First come, first served.

On the 13th Mr. James B. Waters of Nimblewill district, had five hogs or shrouds killed by lightning. Those that were not lying against the log escaped.

Our old friend and patron, Mr. James Witt, who is doing business over at McCay, Tenn., is over on a visit. Jim's friends are numerous here, all of whom are glad to see him.

Col. Dean, that well known lawyer of Gainesville, who is a sure enough friend to the enterprise desiring to connect that city and Dahlonega by rail, attended court here this week.

Capt. R. R. Asbury of White county, has been down this week. We are always glad to see the Captain in our midst. He is full of energy and always has something in view for the betterment of this country.

Col. Howard Thompson of Gainesville, has been here this week. Notwithstanding we use to have a good deal of business with the Colonel while he was Solicitor General, he always treated us like a gentleman and we can't help but feel kind towards him.

Last week Geo. Terrell appointed 800 delegates from all the counties in Georgia to attend the great sugar cane convention, which convenes in Macon on Wednesday, May 6th. Those appointed to represent Lumpkin are: W. H. Early; Dahlonega; W. J. Burt, Borrough; G. G. Evans; Wahoo; Daniel Davis; Headig; John R. Graham; Two Run.

On Friday night of last week the wife of John Hester, residing in Chestnut district, presented him with three babies—two boys and one girl. They are attracting much attention and Mr. Hester's residence is visited by 25 or more people every day, for the purpose of seeing these little ones. Two of them weigh seven pounds each and the other six. At last counts we were all alive.

Court held five days last week in White county and Solicitor General Charters made it hot for the boys. Out of 27 criminal cases 23 were found guilty, or plead guilty. The colored camp ground in that county, always furnishes plenty of business for the court. Both whites and blacks visit the place drunk, and do all kinds of development. An effort is going to be made to have the camp ground abolished.

Mr. Ab. Grindle of this county, was wedded on Wednesday of last week to Miss Ella Palmer of White.

Mr. John Jackson left last Saturday for Stone Mountain, Ga., where he goes to accept a position for awhile.

Miss Mirtie Thomas, who left this place some time ago for Hixville, O., is sick in that city with small pox.

Our town has presented a very lively appearance this week as numerous persons residing out of the county have had business in court.

The grand jury got down to business at once and have been kept busy looking after violators of the law and such other business as may concern the county.

Postmaster Tate requests us to state that the mail on Sunday is due at 1 o'clock and that the office will be kept open a half an hour for the delivery of mail after it is all put up.

Mr. David Jarrard of this county, has a buckeye gum which holds sixteen bushels and a half. It was made by a man on Cooper's Creek in Union county, more than 35 years ago.

Judge Kinsey came in about noon last Sunday and spent the rest of the day here attending services and shaking hands with his many old acquaintances. The Judge is very clever and sociable why is he liked so well.

Mr. Kato Mountjoy of Washington City, was here last week, an official whose duty it is to inspect U. S. Commissioner's books, and he came to look at Judge Barnes and found them all O. K. He also made an inspection of the gold mines, something new to him, and was perfectly delighted with his trip.

There were services at three different places last Sunday at 3 o'clock. To men only, at the courthouse by Rev. Mr. Blackwell; to ladies at the Methodist church by Rev. Mr. Mark, and at the Presbyterian church by Rev. Mr. Gunn. All three of the sermons are said to be very fine. The union meeting is still in progress.

A railroad will be built to the Pyrites mine in this county, but Dahlonega will never get one unless all her citizens put their shoulders to the wheel and help to push. Quit charging unreasonable amounts for damages. When this is done then we will get a railroad, and not before. Remember that railroads are the life of any country, for they bring about prosperity and help everybody.

During what they call the union meeting here, some of the ministers have acted more like book agents and non resident life insurance men, by making themselves very conspicuous, many times this way, talking much and doing but little good, in our estimation. One of them took occasion to tell in church that we said we wouldn't attend. If we don't want to go church it is none of his business. He is not responsible for us. And if he doesn't want to read our paper he needn't do it, and all he has got to do is to tell us and we will refund his money.

If the preachers here would give the members of their churches more attention they might accomplish more good. No longer than last week a poor country girl was sent home from here ruined, said to be by a member of the church. And in the court house on yesterday another member after putting up at a negro wench's house the night previous, so we learn, was so drunk that he vomited right in the court room. Isn't this food enough for thought? Preachers have been talking to men only, in the court house for a few Sundays. It might be well enough for them to change the program for awhile and give members only, a little chat, then when they get the church right, it might be an encouragement for others to attend and join it.

It seems that the street gold mine, worked several years ago, near the Wimpy old residence, has been more expensive than profit. The miners contracted to fill up the shafts and make the road good when through, and the truth is, some of them only put timber across the holes and covered them with dirt, and now they are rotting and falling in, leaving a big hole right in the center of the road, and the one who did it is in Alabama or somewhere else. The late rain caused another one of these dangerous places the other night. We expect this will wind up mining in the public streets. It ought to at least.

The night watchman's time has passed.

If you don't want to hear facts keep your eyes off the NUGGET.

Parties have already moved here to be ready to take the Normal course in the college which begins the 27th.

Mr. Frank Meaders, after an absence of some time down the country selling stock, returned to his home here last Thursday.

Rev. J. E. Blackburn of Dahlonega, has been elected pastor of Mill Creek church in this county, who will preach there next Sunday.

Not many days ago two men went out and caught and carried home another fellow's ducks. This is too small a thing to call shortage or embezzlement.

John Chatton, charged with burglary, was placed in jail last Monday, but he was soon released by Mr. John W. Rider signing his bond of five hundred dollars.

The Blue Ridge on Wednesday of last week, presented a beautiful sight. The foot of it was green with leaves and the top white with snow and ice, a very rare occurrence.

The visiting members of the bar this week are: F. J. Ripley Atlanta, J. W. H. Underwood Cleveland, W. F. Findley, Howard Thompson, H. H. Dean and B. P. Gaillard, Gainesville.

The Dahlonega Hotel is now managed by Mrs. R. H. Webb, who solicits a share of the public patronage. The table will be supplied with the best the market affords at low rates.

April 1st.

There is a vacancy or two on the board of trustees of the N. G. A. College, and we understand that there are two or three candidates for the place here. The college has already got enough members here. It is not a local institution and other places should be represented.

Freda post office in this county, where Hutchison & Bros. reside, has a daily mail now, supplied by the Elijah and Dahlonega carrier. A great improvement in the mail facilities have been made of late. If a post office was established at Londons and a change made in the schedule so it wouldn't take a week to get a letter to Walnut just 12 miles from Dahlonega, the work would be about completed.

Blind John Hester, who has been receiving a little help from the county for awhile, requests us to state that he is in a condition now that he does not need it and will not call on the county for any more assistance unless he is obliged to; and wishes to express his thanks to the grand jury which was so thoughtful to remember him in time of need by recommending that he be rendered aid.

Judge J. B. Gaston of Gainesville, spent several hours in the city last week. The judge says that it is a mistaken idea about him and the people of Gainesville being opposed to the Dahlonega and Dahlonega railroad. He says you can't find two more prominent persons in that city opposed to it. This announcement we make with pleasure, for it has been believed here that most of her citizens were opposed to this enterprise, and stood ready to throw any obstacle in the way to prevent its progress.

It seems that the street gold mine, worked several years ago, near the Wimpy old residence, has been more expensive than profit. The miners contracted to fill up the shafts and make the road good when through, and the truth is, some of them only put timber across the holes and covered them with dirt, and now they are rotting and falling in, leaving a big hole right in the center of the road, and the one who did it is in Alabama or somewhere else. The late rain caused another one of these dangerous places the other night. We expect this will wind up mining in the public streets. It ought to at least.

Court Proceedings.

Dr. Baber of Dawsonville has been up mixing and mingling with his friends here this week.

Mr. Joe Ricketts was fined $1.00 and cost last Friday for shooting within the corporate limits.

Another one of Hix's cold waves struck us yesterday causing you sockless editor to feel quite uncomfortable this morning.

The working of the roads by taxation was passed by the grand jury last Monday but they reconsidred the matter Tuesday and rescinded its actions of the previous day. So the poor man still has to keep up the roads.

Standard granulated sugar, 18 pounds for $1.00. Good green coffee, 8 cents pound; 4 A coffee, 10 cents. Best whole stock kip tie shoe, $1.25 pair. A A sheeting, 5¢ yard. Come and examine our entire stock of goods and see if we can't save you money.

FRANK L. REESE.

The patient medicine man, with two negro musicians yesterday, collected a larger crowd quicker than any of the minstrels have been able to do during their union meeting. We were on hand ourselves and saw some of those preachers there, too, that contend that we should assist in the enlightenment of the heathens.

Last week we mentioned some "innocent amusement" that had been going on between certain parties of this county, and for fear that the present grand jury may be censured for not returning bills in these cases, we will state that the Supreme court has decided that a man cannot swear against his wife in this matter. All the husband can do is to go on and endure it.

The merchants complain of not receiving their goods on time and patrons of the postoffice grumble because the mail is not here on time; and still some of them that are over-age or even "too much property," are opposed to roads being worked by taxation, yet it would cost them only a few cents more. Less probably than it would cost to pay the damages of their wagons and carriages.

Although Prof. Stewart, president of the N. G. A. College, will soon leave Dahlonega to accept a more profitable position for the State University, he does not forget to put in a word occasionally for the institution he has worked for so earnestly here for years.

Being elected by the board of trustees of the University recently, is an evident fact that he is a good worker. Really, he is the best president the N. G. A. College ever had since its foundation, taking all things into consideration.

The grand jury this week had before it the question of levying a tax to keep up the public roads. Although our time of working roads has almost expired and we have always performed road duty since 16 years of age, we would vote for it. Those opposing it refer to Hall county. Hall is no criterion to go by, simply because those in power there do not perform their duty. Good roads are the life of any country. Farmers can bring more to town and those taking only a pleasure ride can do so with much more ease and comfort. By all means let us have better roads.

After having been in the penitentiary for almost a quarter of a century, Rose Henderson, an old negro of 58, may be pardoned. Her son, who is employed in Chatanooga, has written to Secretary Goodloe Yancey, of the prison commission, stating he will care for his mother if she is released. The matter will be brought to the board's attention. Rose was sent up for murder from Lumpkin county in August, 1879, and it is said her conduct since has been exceptionally good, says the Atlanta News. Yes, Rose used to have evening prayer here that could be heard for a quarter of a mile—not farther we don't suppose—and during the time she gave birth to a child and drowned it in the Yougha ditch, trying to conceal her meanness.

Court Proceedings.

Soon after court convened Judge Kinsey, thinking that there would be enough civil business to run the court until Wednesday, stated that the state docket would not be taken up until then. Soon afterwards it was learned that but little civil business would be transacted at this term and his honor dismissed all the special jurors until Wednesday and nothing was done in court Tuesday of a special nature except of a case of injunction.

The following cases have been disposed of as we go to press, (Thursday morning):

Oregon Martin vs. Ella Martin, libel for divorce—first verdict.

State vs. Brady Duncan, misdemeanor—plea of guilty and fined $10 and costs.

State vs. Brady Duncan, misdemeanor—plea of guilty, fine of $10 and costs, second case.

Petition and order appointing W. S. Hunt notary public.

A. T. Jay vs. A. E. Sullins, appeal from Justice court—appeal dismissed and judgment against plaintiff for cost.

R. M. Whelehan vs. J. L. Poor, remitter. Court below severed and judgment of Supreme court made the judgment of the court, and judgment of plaintiff.

W. J. Loveless vs. Standard Gold Mining Co., remitter. Court below severed and judgment of Supreme court made the judgment of this court—judgment for plaintiff for cost.

State vs. Frank W. Wimpy, misdemeanor—plea of guilty and fined $10 and costs.

State vs. G. D. Bruce, misdemeanor—plea of guilty and fined $25 and costs.

State vs. Jess Castleberry, misdemeanor—plea of guilty and fined $25 and costs.

State vs. Jack Lingerfelt, misdemeanor—fine $20 and costs or 6 months in chain gang.

State vs. Lawson Teal, assault and battery—settled on payment of costs and not otherwise.

D. M. Caldwell, plaintiff in fa. vs. Andrew Hatfield, defendant in fa. and S. D. Grindel claims—claimed dismissed and judgment for cost against claimant.

Mrs. B. A. Craig, libel for divorce—order perfecting services.

State vs. Emory Martin, plea of guilty—fine $10 and costs or 6 months in chain gang.

F. L. Murry vs. J. T. Miller—death of Daniel Howard suggested.

A. T. Jay vs. A. E. Sullins—case reinstated.

Chestnut Pyrites Co. vs. Caverne's Creek Gold Mining Co.—injunction refused.

State vs. West White, disturbing school—plea of guilty filed, $10 and cost or 3 months in chain gang.

State vs. Wilson Parks, misdemeanor, plea of guilty—fine $25 and costs or 12 months in chain gang.

State vs. Walter Parks, misdemeanor, plea of guilty—fine $10 and costs.

State vs. Clyde Loveless and Pierce Elmendorf, cruelty to animals, verdict of guilty—fine $10 each or three months in chain gang each.

State vs. Barney Brackett, Will Lemley and Jim Chambers, riot—fine $10 each or three months in chain gang.

State vs. Jim Sullins, selling liquor—acquitted.

State vs. West Lingerfelt, rule—rule dismissed.

H. E. Watson, a juror, fined $5 for being drunk.

The perjury case against Squire Hughes of Dawson county, is now in progress.

At a meeting of the Confederate Association here yesterday Capt. W. J. Worley was elected commander to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Capt. Joseph Allen. Col. Price was chosen as permanent chairman. On motion April 27th will be observed as Memorial day, meeting about 10 a.m. on that day. Capt. J. W. Woodward and Col. W. P. Price were elected as delegates to the United Confederate Association which convenes in North Carolina, with power to appoint their alternates if not able to attend.

Wild West Justice.

In the early days of Minnesota, according to Harpers Magazine, a man named Johnson was elected justice of the peace in a little town. He pretended to no judicial attainments, and was elevated to the place solely because he was the oldest man in the community.

The first case which came before him was that of a man charged with stealing a calf. Justice Johnson was conscious of his legal inexperience, so as much as possible to avoid the scrutiny of the public he put down the hearing for the next morning at 7 o'clock. This was so early that when the time arrived the prosecuting attorney was not on hand, and his honor faced only the sheriff and the prisoners and his lawyer.

"Gentlemen, you will please come to order," said the court, thumping on the table with his fist.

The lawyer arose and said:

"You honor, I represent the prisoner in the case. This is the hour at which the court was announced to open, and as the prosecuting attorney is not present, as he ought to be, I desire to make a motion that the prisoner be discharged."

The judge fidgeted about a moment and then said:

"Gentlemen, it is moved that the prisoner be discharged."

The lawyer nudged his client vigorously with his elbow.

"I second the motion," blurted out the prisoner.

"Gentlemen, you have heard the motion," said the court. "As many of you as are in favor of it signify by saying 'aye.'"

"Aye," called out the lawyer and the prisoner.

"Contrary minded, 'no.'"

"No," shouted the sheriff.

"The 'ayes' have it. The prisoner is discharged. A motion to adjourn is in order."

The lawyer responded with the motion, the prisoner with the second, and Justice Johnson's first term of court was a thing of the past.

Doesn't Advertise.

"Yes," said the merchant who doesn't believe in advertising "the country is going to the devil."

"I thought as much when I read that placard in your window," the solicitor answered.

"Which placard?"

"The one that says, 'We Lead; Others Follow.'—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Griffin News says: A Barnesville man sent the following testimonial to a patent medicine company: "Dear Sir. My wife took a bottle of your medicine and died. I am married again; please send me another bottle."

Messrs. Arnold and Northwest, the two gentlemen who bought so much land up on Turniptown, are building a saw mill and we learn will erect a canning factory. Let the good work go on.—Elijah Carter.

VALUABLE

Mining Lands FOR SALE.

I have the following gold mining properties for sale in

PUMPKIN COUNTY, Ga.

100 acres, 5 miles south-west of Dahlonega, containing the Briar Creek. Five gold-bearing veins, each up, assaying from $4.50 to $9.00 per ton, with ore enough in sight to run a stamp mill 25 years. This proposition has no charter or water rights running through the entire property, with water power enough to command for all necessary machinery. Well timbered. In White County, Ga.

500 acres, 12 miles north-east of Dahlonega, in the above county. Two veins opened up from 8 inches to two feet wide, running $9.00 per ton mill test. Gold runs in the veins, 500 acres. This property also contains very valuable placer diggings. Water in abundance for all necessary mining operations. Well timbered and with 60 acres in cultivation. Titles clear and perfect.

At last the stern parent came up with the eloping couple.

"Do not take her back," pleaded the young man, trembling as much as the motor in his automobile.

"Take her back?" echoed the stern parent. "Why, I have come to bring her perfume and chewing gum so she would have no excuse for coming back."—Chicago Daily News.

"I see you have a new Easter bonnet," said the president of the literary club to the secretary of the same.

"Yes," cooed the secretary. "Don't you think it is a poem?" "Humph!" sniffed the president. "If I am to judge by the materials used, and the general style of the plot, I should say it was a historical novel."

And then they glared and glared and glared.—Judge.

Hereafter no Chicago girl need be without a beau or an escort, unless by choice. She can now go to the telephone and order a beau for the morning, afternoon or evening, just the same as she would order a block of ribbon or a bottle of pickles. And she can order just the style of beau she wants to match her complexion, or her new frock, or her "confection" of a new hat. There are to be had long beaus and short; dark beaus and light; lean beaus and fat, and whiskered beaus and those that are clean-shaven. It is merely a case of "you pay your money and you take your choice."—Ex.

It is simple but worth a trial. If your hogs begin to show signs of cholera, burn some charcoal and feed your hogs in it. Feed them in this manner three times a week. The remedy costs nothing but the trouble to cut down, pile and burn a small pine tree.—Greenville Advocate.

The prosecuting witness, who had a lump over one eye, a black and blue spot under the other, a nose that pointed decidedly away, and various strips of court plaster on his face, evidently arranged without any regard to their artistic effect, testified that the defendant had knocked him senseless and then kicked him in the head and face for several minutes, says the Chicago Tribune.

"If he knocked you senseless," asked the police judge, "how do you know he kicked you after you were down?"

The witness scratched his jaw, and reflected.

"I know it, judge," he replied, "because that's what I'd a done to him if I'd got him down—you can bet on that!"

Grasp of Grip Prostrated Me.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Built Up My

Shattered Nerves and Gave Me an Appetite.

Of the millions of people, who today suffer from nervous and heart weakness, a large percentage trace the disease directly to deadly grippe. Grippe attacks are often preceded by a direct attack upon the nerves, putting an extra strain upon them at the time their vital functions are most active. Grippe often leaves you with a shattered nervous system, with loss of appetite, lack of energy, insomnia, tremors, etc. Dr. Miles' Nervine, a nervine tonic, should strengthen the weakened nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine. It will build up all the nerve tissue, restore the appetite, and restore the nerves to their normal activity.

I want to write this testimonial for the benefit of those who have suffered from grippe. I have been a grippe patient for several weeks with it, and nothing I tried seemed to benefit me in any way, shape or form (I suffered from grippe and grippe) until my daughter recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine to me and I can truthfully say from the first day I took it that I began to improve. I am relieved, built up my shattered nerves and gave me a splendid appetite. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Those who have suffered from grippe will find instant relief by getting a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It is simply splendid. Hoping the same will benefit some poor sufferers I remain, etc., GEORGE L. MILL, Jackson, Tenn.

All druggists sell and prescribe the bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Grand Jury Presentments.

GEORGIA, Lumpkin County.
To the Honorable J. J. Kinsey, Judge of the Superior Court of said county:

We, the Grand Jury of said county, selected and sworn at the April term, 1903, of the Superior Court of said county, beg leave to report that after being on the said jury of April, 1903, impanelled and sworn, this body was regularly organized by electing F.

M. Williams Foreman and John H. Jenkins Clerk, and L. B. Walker bailiff for our body, and immediately entered regularly upon the discharge of our duty.

We have examined the report of the Finance Committee, appointed by the last Grand Jury to investigate financial condition of the county, and examined the books of the several county officers and have adopted their report to this body, which report is hereto attached as a part of these present-ments.

We have examined the pension rolls of said county and that the names thereon appear to be entitled to pensions and we recommend that they be continued thereon.

We recommend that the Ordinary of said county pay the following named paupers the sums herein set forth: Uncle Jack Grizzle of Nimblewill district, the sum of three dollars per month. George Chapman of Au-raria district, the sum of $3.00 per month. Mrs. Rachel Williams of Nimblewill district, the sum of $3.00 per month. Levi Stargel and wife of Davis district, the sum of $2.00 each, and also Mrs. Myra Gayden of Auraria district, the sum of $3.00.

We recommend that the Ordinary pay to Dr. W. L. Barber of Dawsonville, Georgia, the sum of $10.00 for pauper practice, done and rendered to Jane Ayers, a Lumpkin county pauper of Mill Creek district.

We find the roads in the county,
generally in very bad condition and recommend the Ordinary to have the Commissioners in the various districts to have them put in a good condition without delay.

We recommend also that the Ordinary have a bridge built across the Hightower river, at the Pitner Ford, on the John Simmons place, the same to be built of wood and the total cost not to exceed two hundred dollars.

Hon. Howard Thompson of Gainesville, came before this body at the instance of the Commissioners of Hall county and submitted to it a proposition as follows:

That if Lumpkin county would employ a competent surveyor and locate a road from Dahlonega by way of Neister's Ford to the Hall county line, that Hall county would co-operate with us and construct the road in the same manner from there to the city of Gainesville. We have given the matter full consideration, and while we realize that the construction of such a road is almost a necessity, we feel that the present financial condition of the county does not warrant the undertaking and respectfully recommend that no action be taken in the matter at present.

Hon. W. P. Price, President of the Board of Education of Lumpkin county, came before this body and suggested the idea of higher education in the rural schools of the county and the taking of a steps looking to theleying of a special tax for their support.
This body, while realizing fully the growing demand for higher education, we are informed that there is now pending before the legislature of Georgia which any school district can adopt local taxation for the support of its schools. We deem it advisable to defer action pending this legisla-

We have examined the public buildings of the county and find them well kept and in good repair.

We recommend that the account of John Huff, Ordinary, for $139.90 be paid.

We find vacancies in the offices of Notary Public in the following districts, and recommend that Will M. Grindle be appointed Notary Public for the 124th District, G. M.; that W. T. Sullivan be appointed Notary Public for the 132nd district,
G. M., and that Nonh White be appointed Notary Public for the 116th district, G.
M.

We have selected and appointed the following Finance Committee to examine the finance condition of the county and the books and offices of the various county officials and report their finding to the Grand Jury at the October term, next of this Court, to-wit:
T. F. Jackson, Jno. Wacaster and
F. J. Williams.

We recommend that these pro-presentments be published once in each DAHLONEGA NUGGET and Dahlonega Signal for the price of one insertion in one paper at the usual rates for legal publication.

In taking leave of the Court,
we beg to express our appreciation for the uniform courtesy extended to this body by his Honor J. J.
Kinsey, and to extend to the Hon.
W. A. Charters, our able Solicitor-General, and thanks for the kindness and assistance rendered to this body. We also extend to L. B. Walker, our bailiff, our sincere thanks for his courtesy and faithful attention to duty in our service.

FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

GEORGIA, Lumpkin County.
To the Honorable Grand Jury of said county: April term, 1903, Court, 1000.

We find the County Comptroller appointed at the last term of Court and being duly sworn, beg to submit the following report:

We find the Tax Collector
F. W. Wimpy's books, for the year 1902, and find amount due on digest was $3067.08. We find insolvent property tax to be $12,224. Collected and rec'd on digest by $12,224. Leaving a balance of $639.14 collected and turned over to the proper officers.

We find the books of County Treasurer, Jno. H. Moore, drawn to be correctly kept, as follows:

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 30, 1903.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Rev. A. Van Hoose died at Gainesville last Sunday.

It is said that Wall Street is working to defeat Roosevelt.

Athens is speaking of having a normal school next summer for negroes.

Gov. Terrell thinks that the state should care for confederate soldiers graves.

Memorial day was observed in nearly every town and city in Georgia last Monday.

Dr. Lyman Abbott of Brooklyn, N. Y., says that there are better chances for the negro in the south than in the north.

At Cartage, Tex., the other day a negro who was charged with assaulting a 4-year old girl after being released on bond was lynched.

Last Sunday a negro entered the Dodson residence, at Americus, armed with an ax, and proceeded to loot the home in the presence of several ladies.

The speaker of the Illinois legisture asserting that efforts by some of its members had been made to bribe him caused a general riot in the house last week.

Race trouble broke out at Beggs Ind. T., last week, caused by a stick of dynamite being put under one end of a negro's house who was not wanted there.

Mrs. Georgia Turner of Atlanta, was sentenced to 30 days in the stockade for drunk the other day. This shows the kind of a temperance society Judge Broyles runs in that city.

We have received the first copy of The Wireless, the only daily newspaper in the world publishing sure enough wireless telegraph dispatches. It is published at Avalon, Santa Catalina Island.

Chancellor Hill of the state University thinks there is too much frolicking among the students of that institution, and does not approve of them going out of the state to play ball. He is correct.

In Richmond, Va., the other day a big sensation was created because a preacher was seen hugging a woman. In order to quiet the report he came out in a circular and claimed that it was his wife. But who knows whether it was or not?

A negro was lynched at Thebes, Ill., last week, for attempting to assault a farmer's daughter. After the lynching the mob charged the negro settlement and a bloody riot took place, causing the death of many negroes and tents burned.

John Lee of Atlanta, who was at home on a furlough from the asylum, while eating breakfast one morning this week suddenly got uncontrollable, threatening to blow up the house and its inmates with dynamite. An officer was sent for and Lee slipped off and is gone.

The governor has again refused to commute the death sentence of John Perry of Dalton, and it may be that he will plead insanity as the last resort. There are too many criminals in the asylum now doubtless that would have been hanged long ago had they received their just reward.

Advices by the steamer Empress of China tell of a crucifixion of a Chinese desperado in Tung, who confessed to sixty murders. When he confessed it was decided that despatched was too lenient a punishment and he was crucified. He was nailed by his hands to a wooden cross and placed in a public place as a warning to malefactors.
He lingered for three days before he succumbed to his terrible suffering. Had Tung lived in Georgia and his case come before the prison board he might have been alive today.

THE INGERSOLL DREDGE BOAT AS SHE WILL APPEAR WHEN COMPLETED.

This boat that will be launched today is said to be, by dredge men who have seen it, the best boat ever constructed in this part of the State. The lumber is of the best. There are 40,000 feet in it, $200 worth of bolts, 7 kgs of spikes, and the machinery that goes on the boat weighs 60,000 pounds. The two spuds that hold the boat in place, while she is at work, is white oak and each weighs 4,000 pounds.

Mining Notes.

The annual meeting of the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co. convenes here on next Wednesday.

We are informed that it is believed arrangements are being made to resume on the Gorge dam at an early date.

As stated recently the Cawdor Creek Co. would resume work about the first of the month. We have heard nothing to the contrary.

The Ingersoll and Crisson dredge boat for the Chastatea river will be launched today, and the machinery will begin at once so as to have it in running order and scooping the vast amount of gold from that rich stream at an early day as possible.

Mr. Wharton Anderson of the Calhoun, spent most of last Sunday in Dahlonega, and when asked how he was getting along at this celebrated mine, said as usual. Every person who is acquainted with the Calhoun knows what that means—is making money.

There has been nothing heard of what the Consolidated expects to do yet. Mr. Ainsley, the president, who has Mr. Maxwell's report about the new smelter he went to see in Mexico, had not submitted it to the directors at last accounts on account of being sick. Hope he will soon be able to do this as we are all anxious to hear from it.

Mr. Pratt, of the Pyrites mine was up one day last week, and stated that he would return to the mine in about a week. Have not learned when work will be resumed there yet. The company has the railroad question in view now and will not likely do anything more the matter is settled and is the right man in the right place.

Mr. Riegelmann and Mr. Mackay of the New York gentlemen who have been some time down here looking over our mines, left for New York Sunday morning.

Capt. Jaquish went as far as Gainesville with them.

Mr. Arnold of the Betz mine

left Friday morning for Philadelphia, where his father is very Auraria Mining and Other Dots.

It is pretty late in the season for frost, but we had plenty last week.

The farmers are still very badly behind with their work.

Mr. J. N. Davis of Hedwig, spent Saturday with his sister, Mrs. Hutcherson at Auraria.

Work on the Briar Patch ditch is progressing nicely under the foremanship of Mr. Dunk Hollifield. They have four or five miles of the ditch completed. Mr. Hollifield understands his business and is the right man in the right place.

Mr. Riegelmann and Mr. Mackay of the New York gentlemen who have been some time down here looking over our mines, left for New York Sunday morning. Capt. Jaquish went as far as Gainesville with them.

Mr. Arnold of the Betz mine

left Friday morning for Philadelphia, where his father is very old.

Local News.

Mr. James B. Witt returned to his place of business at McCay, Tenn., last Tuesday.

Come in and examine our new lot of stationery. We have something that will suit you, we are certain.

Today is the last day to return your city taxes. Councilmen Price or McGee either one will take your estimate value.

Last weeks grand jury returned fifteen true bills and looked after the interests of the county as will be seen by the presentments else where.

Several persons who were absent last week during court for fear of being witness as before the grand jury, are coming in one by one.

Mr. Lewis Ricketts, formerly of Dahlonega but now of Atlanta, spent several days with his father and other relatives here, accompanied by his wife last week.

Mrs. Jasper Gadlin, who went from this county to Oklahoma eighteen years ago, is here on a visit to her relatives and friends for the first time in seven years.

White stockings are coming back in style again, and the cold north wind and low cut shoes with this kind of hoseery last Sunday worn by some, looked a little out of season and quite cool.

The Dahlonega Hotel is now managed by Mrs. R. H. Webb, who solicits a share of the public patronage. The table will be supplied with the best of the market afford at low rates.

April 1st.

Col. S. A. Champion, one of our patrons residing at Nashville, Tenn., and a stockholder in Crown Mountain Gold Mine, spent several days in Dahlonega last week looking over the gold field with his friend, Col. R. H. Moore.

All of the last grand jury except eight men are patrons of the Nugget, and eighteen of the next grand jury drawn to serve, are subscribers to it. We give you this item to show how well this paper is liked and patronized by the best men of the country.

Out on Pen Ridge last Sunday a negro husband fastened the doors when his wife was absent and refused to let her in. The woman used an axe with all her might it is said, for a key on one of the doors and at about three licks she gained admittance.

It was reported here last Thursday after we had gone to press that Mrs. J. B. Anderson, who moved to Alabama recently, was dead and that her remains were being brought back for interment. But soon afterwards it was learned that such was not the case and the lady was getting better.

Our city was visited last week by Dr. Metcalf of the north, accompanied by his wife and daughter. The Doctor is a stockholder in the Crown Mountain Mining Co. and came down to look after his interests. We learn that the gentleman was very much encouraged when he went away, on account of the mine showing up much better than when he last visited it. The Doctor is one of our special friends and we trust that he will be able to remain longer the next time he visits Dahlonega.

Dick McDonald, who has been confined in prison over two years, first by the United States authority and then the state, succeeded in making bail last Sunday, which was signed by Mr. D. M. Grizzie, it being reduced from $500 to $200. John Chattoe, who is charged with the same offense of breaking into Wier post office where there was also a store, has never been tried yet by either the state or United States. McDonald was convicted in the U. S. Court and served out a sentence of two years, and is now at the mercy of the state court. Chattoe's case was continued here for the term and a new trial has been granted him by the U. S. court.

Dr. Whelchel visited Atlanta this week.

Jack Townsend left this week for Alabama, where he goes to mine.

The jail is clear once more and nobody had to go to the chain gang.

The farmers have had several pretty days this week to work and they have made good use of the time.

Lost.—A watch charm between Dahlonega and Ashley's school house. The finder will please return it to Rev. J. E. Blackburn.

The schedule of the Elbjay mail has been changed so it will leave here at 12:45 hereafter, a little later than usual.

The six weeks normal course of the N. G. A. College for the benefit of teachers commenced here last Tuesday with a good attendance.

Mr. A. P. Tregent, who is interested with one of his sons down at the Barlow, mining for gold, was in Dahlonega awhile last Tuesday.

Col. Charters and Stenographer Swain went down to Gainesville last Monday to attend a call term of the Superior court of Hall county.

If you have any mining lands to sell let it be known through the columns of the Nugget, where it will be seen by northern capitalists.

Mr. Maxwell has gone to Essex, N. C., to locate some mining machinery for a company at that place. He will be absent two weeks or more.

A list of the commencement orators will be found on the fourth page. It is a big crowd and is sure to make things right lively when the time comes.

Mrs. John Hesters triplets that were born a few days ago are still all alive, but the mother is in a very dangerous condition and not expected to live unless a change takes place.

You will observe by looking at Mr. J. T. Miller's advertisement elsewhere, that he expects to remain in business at Aurora and will continue to make it to your interest to trade with him.

Martin Wehnert, who was jailed here last week for being unable to pay his lawer in a divorce suit, according to promise, was released last Monday, by some of his friends coming to his rescue.

Last week one of the grand jurors was drunk nearly the entire week. But as he is not a member of any of the town churches we suppose Bro. Gunn will have no objections of us mentioning it.

Messrs. A. G. Pierce and Edward LaFave of Springfield, Mo., arrived in Dahlonega last Monday, and left the next day across the Blue Ridge. Their business is unknown to us as they refused to talk.

A misunderstanding caused the college cadets not to take any hand in Memorial services here last Monday, causing less interest to be taken in it as many like to see them march out to the cemetery with their guns and fire a salute.

The normal course here has teachers, both male and female, from various counties in Georgia who come to advance themselves as teachers, enabling them to be up to date in the business. We extend to all a most hearty welcome.

Last week we met a gentleman here who had not been in Dahlonega in many years. When he took his departure a long time ago he was engaged to a young lady of this place and the date was fixed for the wedding. Although the time had not expired for it another gentleman won her heart and they were married. The husband only lived a few years, and the lady has lived single ever since. While her first love called on her and who knows but what their old love has been renewed and their happy union may take place yet?

The Non Fraternity pic niced at Porters Springs last Monday.

Come down and let us print you some of the four X envelopes we have on hand cheap.

Mr. Tom Cantrell of White county, was down this week for the first time in quite a while.

One afternoon of last week Miss Sarah Head was kicked down by her brothers cow while passing it, and painfully though not seriously injured for awhile.

The grand jury presentments and a list of the new grand and special jurors for the next term of Lumpkin Superior court will be found on the first and fourth pages of this issue.

Mr. Mincey, who was raised in this county but is now located in Cobb, was here on a visit last week for the first time in fourteen years. The changes that have occurred in this length of time are many.

Strayed.—A big black spotted cow, giving milk, has right young calf, about 14 or 15 years old. Lost last Monday night. Any information about her will be thankfully received by

GRAVES STARGEL

Dr. Brice, a dentist of Dawson county, has located in Dahlonega for awhile. So now some of the boys will have no excuse to ride down to Gainesville and maybe to Atlanta, to have a tooth pulled. We wish him success.

Mr. J. F. Brough, a cadet of the N. G. A. College here, writes a very interesting letter to his home paper about the advantages this institution is offering and what great good it is accomplishing. It will be found elsewhere in this issue. Read it.

The three-weeks meeting broke up here last Sunday night. We trust that some good was accomplished but are not able to say. The weather has been cold but know not about the meeting as you can't tell about people. The weather turned warm Monday and it is fine now.

Mr. G. W. Hubbard, who spent quite a while in Dahlonega and who has been located at Blue Ridge, Ga., is now superintendent of the electric light plant at that place and will move there. He directs us to still keep the Nugget coming to his address, as he likes to read what takes place at Dahlonega.

Bill Walker, who went West from this county many years ago and some time back lost his wife, has recently had trouble by marrying again. He went up into Washington and married a girl under age contrary to the law of that section and besides being confined in jail for awhile and his wife taken from him, had to pay out about five hundred dollars.

The courtships up in the settlement of the Wild post office are getting to be interesting as well as amusing. One fellow, who was about to get ent out of his girl by another, knowing that she was fond of pretty dogs, went clear up into Chestoato district and brought her back a few dog, but when the time came for them to take a ride she pretended to be sick and it may cause her to commit suicide. Another girl the girl he loved to be his, who told him if he would pull from her finger one of the many pretty rings she wore on her hand, which were all hard to get off, she would consent. So he grabbed her by one finger and commenced spitting on the ring, causing the girl to get mad, and now he may have suicide intentions. And the third one came over from Shoal Creek district on a courting expedition recently, riding in a buggy that had not been used for some time, and after they took a ride and he went to the back end of the vehicle for something, discovered where a hen had made a nest and deposited six eggs while it stood under a shed. He wrapped them up carefully and carried all back home. So it is believed that he is strong enough to make a good living and these two may match off.

The Preacher's Gas Bag Card From Scott Stringer, Bursted.

Editor Signal: The report found in the Dahlonega Nugget last week in regard to my misconduct is untrue and I only wish to say that the editor has done me an injustice—one which I shall never forgive him for; that before writing of men's private affairs he should first get the real facts and not only tell one side of the matter, but both sides as well; that I am innocent of the charges made against me in this affair, and will close by saying that the people of Lumpkin county know me and if any of them will show up my record to you show up the character of the editor of the Nugget, then I will shut my mouth and never allow myself to be seen on Lumpkin county soil again. I was a subscriber to the Nugget and the night some time ago that I would stop sending my paper from coming into my home for the simple reason that the paper is too dirty and ignorant to come into a decent family's house, more especially when there are a crowd of little boys and girls who would no doubt be led to sin by reading it. I am like the preacher who denounced his dirty sheet in the pulpit in Dahlonega a few nights ago. But the preacher did not say enough. He should have added that such an editor ought to be run out of the country by the good christian people who claim it as their home. I will also add that the editor of the Nugget has as much as he can attend to at home without tracing up a pack of lies to publish on other people.

Scot Stringer.

The above card we find in last weeks Signals written by Billie Apple Jack of that paper in a manner to suit his own taste, as Mr. Stringer said to us that there was more in the card than he told Apple Jack, and for this reason we will direct our attention mostly to little Jack. In the first place the Nugget was not denounced by any preacher in church, at the time mentioned and if we were to remain here until run out by christian people we would stay a long time. Little Billie didn't know that Mr. Stringer has been taking and paying for the Nugget ever since the 26th day of December, 1896, and still says for us to send it on. It doesn't hurt little Billie to tell or publish a lie especially when he can conceal himself behind some one else's coat tail. Why bless your life, any body can take a nickel and place it in the seat of his pants and catch his heart, or put it in the other end and it would go that way, just like the bubble in a spirit level. So it can't be expected for a thing built this way to tell the truth or be accountable for its acts. Really, we believe he is just as safe as any heathen.

Now to Mr. Stringer, we will state that we never said that he was guilty of such conduct referred to, for we didn't know it ourselves. Only gave it as it was given us. Any way, last week's grand jury returned two bills against Mr. Stringer, one for carrying a pistol and the other for assault and battery, both growing out of this transaction. So if there is a mistake we are not to blame for it.

Memorial Service.

The Confederate Veterans Association met at the court house on April 27th. Present: W. J. Worley, Commander; W. H. McAfee, Assistant Commander; T. H. Worley, Chaplain; F. V. Moose, Historian; W. P. Price, Sr., J. E. Blackburn, A. F. Stov, J. H. Moore, Sr., J. B. Housley, J. L. Davis, John Huff, E. C. Marks.

The Camp then marched to the college—D. C. Stow, drummer, and met the Ladies' Memorial Association. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Marks. Several beautiful songs were sang. Miss Maggie Crisson presiding at the organ. Interesting speeches were made by Capt. W. H. McAfee, Col. W. P. Price, Col. J. H. Moore, Rev. Mr. Marks and Rev. Mr. Blackburn.

The Ladies' Association, veterans and citizens then marched to the sound of the drum to Mt. Hope cemetery, where beautiful flowers were placed on the graves of the departed soldiers and others, and this ended Decoration Day 1903.

FROM THE N. G. A. COL-LEGE.

James F. Broach, a Talented Walton County Young Man, Writes of the Work of this Institution.

(From Walton Tribune.)

Inbreathing the college spirit that finds free expression in the various newspapers of the state, we are pleased to say that the North Georgia Agricultural College at Dahlonega is not doing the best work in the state, but she is pursuing that method of instructing her boys, both mentally and physically, that will challenge any other institution in Georgia.

The members of the faculty are comparatively young, most of whom hold master's degree from the various higher universities of the United States. Their chief aim is to seek the co-operation of the student body, and thus, having gained the confidence of the students, better results are secured.

Under the skillful management of her present board of trustees, she is making strides of progress that are strictly modern.

In the first place the agricultural department is being conducted on a purely scientific basis. The latest implements are employed, and the student is brought directly to the study of plant life. He is led to see the things that are most essential to its growth and development.

Aside from this are the other various literary departments, all of which will compare equally with the inter-collegiate curricula of the state. In fact, it is so arranged that we do about two hours work more each week than do other colleges in Georgia.

Another one of the main features of the college is the military department. J. F. C. Tilson who is Major of the Fourth United States Infantry has been transferred from the Philippine Islands to take charge of the military department of this institution. The argument that a literary student has no time to spend in a military department is simply misleading. In the first place a healthy, vigorous student cannot devote his whole time to books. His mind must have some time for recreation and rest, and he must have plenty of physical exercise. By going through one hour's rigid drill each day, sets the blood to flowing anew and clears all dizziness away from the brain and hence gives the student a new impetus to solve the various literary problems that confront him next day. Furthermore it does more than merely help the mind; it develops a well made body, without which a healthy mind could not exist.

And next but by no means least, we have the advantages of a first class library which was transferred in 1900 from the old building to the Bostwick Hall. This hall was donated four years ago by the man in New York whose name it bears. The students have free access to many value productions, including ancient, medieval and modern literature. He can find also twenty-five or more of the leading magazines of both Europe and America, besides some current pages of the state.

There are two dormitories connected with the college—one for boys and one for girls. The girls' dormitory was just completed last summer at a cost of $10,000. The two dormitories and the main college building are lighted with electricity. This manner of furnishing light has proven very satisfactory.

The trustees added a new tutor to the faculty last summer, owing to the crowded work in the lower classes. Miss Baright, a graduate of the Boston School of Oratory, has recently taken charge of the department of elocution.

The lecture course last season consisted of some of the most talented men of the country. Some of them are, Fred Emerson Brooks, the noted California poet; Hon. G.

A. Gearhardt, Dr. L. G. Broughton, Dr. William Macy, Dr. Eugene May and others. These gentlemen from their experience in travel in all parts of the world, proved to be exceedingly interesting. We are expecting to have some more beneficial lectures before June.

Such are a few of the advantages of a youthful help situated in the gold regions of Georgia, and with the increased college spirit that she is manifesting, we bids fair to be one of the brilliant stars of her section. Whether she ever meets her other four contemporaries on the intellectual arena or not, she holds the oratorical championship, and she will embrace her glory with a grasp generous enough to make it lively for the one who attempts to rescue the girl from her realms. But should she ever find it necessary to give over the honor from the white and the blue, she will surrender with the peaceful consolation that it was won.

Commencement Orators.

North Georgia Agricultural College has chosen her commencement orators. The contests were held recently, and the fine quality of declamation noted by all the judges was attributed to the effective training given the boys by Miss Baright, of Atlanta, who has had charge of their instruction in public speaking.

The junior speaker's places were awarded on class standing; the lower classes wholly on declamation. The senior honors will be awarded later.

The following members of the several classes were awarded places:

Sophomore Class—W. T. Townsend, Jockey; J. F. Broach, Compator; Rufus Byers, Price; G. W. Harben, Juno; G. L. Watts, Cave Spring; W. L. Ash, Suches; E. P. Patterson, Miller; W. H. Lewis, Alpharetta; J. C. Stewart, Ludville; J. V. Arrendale, Grove.

Freshman Class—W. D. Drew, Swainsboro; George Jelks, Hawskinsville; Miss Belle Morell, Cascade; Weir Gaillard Dahlonega; O. W. Steed, Spring Place; J. R. Wilcox, Eastman; J. G. Speir, Cartersville; W. J. Laney, Atlanta; Robert Ruthford, Culloden; W. L. Jackson, Stockbridge.

A Class, Sub-Fresh.—Harold Bradly, Canton; L. A. Dean, Woodstock; E. B. Kirkpatrick, Chickamauga; J. C. Lewis, Newnan; P. L. Abbott, Dawsonville; H. C. Dwelle, Savannah; T. J. Moore, Canton; Miss Lilly Prater, Dahlonega; E. P. Peeler, Forsyth;

B Class, Sub-Fresh.—J. E. Brown, Dalton; R. H. Bacon, Lexington; Miss Estelle Davis, Dahlonega; Mrs. Mary Hill, Dahlonega; R. P. McCollum, Dawson; Bart McLeod, Dahlonega; B. T. Montgomery, Two Run; B. D. Smith, Price; Miss Ethel Ware, Leesburg; A. W. Wood, Gainesville; Junior—Miss Sallie Gaillard, Dahlonega; L. G. Fortson, Elberton; R. N. Steed, Spring Place; J. R. Henley, Jasper; W. P. Lunsford, Suches; J. D. Gorotowsky, Albany.

Cured
At 70 of Heart Disease Contracted

During Civil War—Veteran Grateful.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Effectively Cured.

Heart disease is curable, but if advanced age it does not readily lend itself to ordinary treatment. There is, however, a simple and safe remedy, which we know from watching hundreds of cases and from the letters of grateful patients that it cures the disease. It is not only a wonderful cure for weak and diseased hearts, but it is a blood tonic, a restorative, an aperient and the most effective treatment ever found for improving the circulation of the blood.

During the Civil War I contracted heart disease. I lived in the old town of Lexington, Va., where I left there with my wife to visit my parents. I was ill for months, but I never expected to live to return to the dear old home. On returning home I was still weak, but I could walk and go about. I should try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I purchased a few bottles of it, also the Nervine Tonic, and the Liver Tonic. I did not see any improvement, and I despaired of ever being better, but my faithful wife insisted that I should take the medicine again. I began to improve in a few weeks, and I took the medicine again. I am now 70 years old, I am comparatively a boy. You sir, are a doctor, and I sincerely recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to you. It is the only true heart cure in the world.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
for children; safe, sure. No opiate.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

PNEUMONIA

follows a cold, but never follows the use of

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

It stops the cough and heals the lungs and prevents a cold from settling on your lungs and resulting in Pneumonia, Pleurisy, or Consumption.

You are in no danger of serious results if FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR is taken, as it soothes and heals the inflamed air passages and the cough disappears.

Be sure and get FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, as preparations containing opiates stop the cough temporarily by paralyzing the nerves in the throat and leave the germs of serious lung trouble and you get one cold on another because the first one was not cured perfectly.

Saved Her Life From Pneumonia.

"My wife had a severe attack of Pneumonia which followed a severe attack of La Grippe and I believe that FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR saved her life," writes W. C. Cook, of Cartersville, Ga.

Dr. C. J. Bishop, Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR in three very severe cases of Pneumonia with good results in every case."

Three Sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00

The 50-cent size contains 2 1-2 times as much as the small size, and the $1.00 size almost 6 times as much.
